ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am thankful to Almighty, who always been very beneficent to me and blessed with courage, patience and enabled me to successfully complete this study.

A doctorate study has been a long and eventful voyage which has left me greatly enriched and has broadened my horizons. This research work is the product of the support and encouragement of numerous people and I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to the every individual without whom unstinting support and encouragement this journey would not have been as fruitful and endearing as it finally turned out to be.

First and the foremost, I am highly indebted to my research supervisor, Dr. M. K. Jain, Professor, University School of Management, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for his inspiration to undertake this research. His continuous guidance, critical insights, generous attitude throughout the research has been a great source for me to make this research possible. His confidence in my capabilities motivated me in tough times during the course of this research. I lack in words to thank him for his precious time and personal attentions. His constant support, guidance and encouragement were vital in reaching the point where I am today.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. R. C. Dalal, Professor, University School of Management, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for his invaluable advice and intellectually guidance. He taught me the intricacies of empirical research and his insights, and critical eye made me appreciate the challenges and pitfalls associated. He refined and enriched my work with his invaluable and relentless support and vision. I owe thanks to him for his stimulating discussions.

I would like to express my gratitude to Professor B.S. Bodla, Chairman, University School of Management, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra whose positive attitude and suggestions often lightened my mind. Additionally, I am also extremely thankful to Prof. D.D. Arora, Prof. Naresh Kumar, Prof. Sushil Sharma, Dr. Anil Mittal, Dr. Ajay Solkhe and other faculty members at University School of Management, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for their support and motivation.
throughout the research work. I am tremendously grateful to Ms. Simmi Arora for her compassionate support and invaluable comments.

I also acknowledge with thanks for the support provided by non-teaching staff, Ms. Kanchan, Assistant, Mr. Gulab Gupta, Librarian, Mr. Ashok Dhiman, Database Administrator at University School of Management, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra.

Special thanks to my cousin, Rishi Dwesar, Research Scholar at IBS, Hyderabad, who was instrumental facilitating much needed support in data compiling on which much of this research is based. Rishi’s outstanding support both in the academic sphere and beyond has been a source of inspiration and encouragement for me.

I am also thankful to all my fellow scholars at University School of Management, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra and my friends for their sincere help, cooperation and encouragement.

Last but not the least, my deepest love and gratefulness goes to my parents for their endless love, for believing in me, and for always backing me up during the course of this study.
