A map of Mizoram and the route of migration of the Reang tribe. First settlement in the north of the Maini river. They lived in the tracts between the rivers, Maini and Karnaphuli (now in the CHT, Bangladesh). A splinter group entered present territory of Mizoram.

Map of Tripura and the Reang settlements. They live in the banks of the rivers, Gomati, Mahuri and Maini. Earlier, they lived in a place, Udaipur.

Map of Bangladesh and the Reang settlements. They lived in the Mainitlang Hills (upper reaches of the Maini river in the Khagrachari district of CHT) near Rangamati.

Tracts bordering India and Myanmar. The probable Reang settlements in the Arakan Hill areas in the past is indicated. They lived in the Matamuri valleys southwards to the borders of Arakan. Then they lived on Kola-dan. Some lived in the Mayu river in its upper course.
The Mamit District of Mizoram and a cluster of the Reang inhabited villages (indicated in the Map).

REFERENCES:
The Reang habitations at the present and in the past. The population is totally lost in Myanmar, very thin in Bangladesh, largest in Tripura, substantial in Mizoram. A map of the region (Myanmar, Mizoram, Tripura and CHT).

REFERENCES
Sketch Map Showing Operational Areas of BNLF. The Map indicates the probable tie ups among the insurgent groups in CHT (Bangladesh).

(Not to Scale)