ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I utilize the privilege of this opportunity to express my deep sense of gratitude and regards to my respected supervisor, Dr. Devashish Kar, Professor, Department of Life Science, Assam University, Silchar, Assam for his excellent and scholarly guidance, constant support and encouragement, keen interest and valuable suggestions during the entire period of investigation without which my research work would not have been completed.

I would like to express my profound appreciation to many generous personalities, notably, the Hon’ble Vice-Chancellor, Assam University, Silchar, the Dean, School of Life Sciences, the Head of the Department of Life Science, the other esteemed teachers and supporting colleagues in our Department and in other departments in the University.

I am extremely grateful to Paul M. Thompson and Parvin Sultana, World Fish Center, Penang 11690, Penang, Malaysia, the renowned scientists and workers on Community-based Fisheries Management who helped me immensely by supplying very valuable research articles for reference. I am really thankful to them.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. S.S.Dana, Professor, Deptt. of Fishery Extension, West Bengal University of Animal & Fishery Sciences, Kolkata who helped me immensely for completion of my thesis work.

I do sincerely express my heartiest regard and deepest sense of gratitude to Dr. B.K. Bhattacharjya, Senior scientist, Central Inland Fishery research Institute (ICAR), North Eastern Regional centre, Guwahait for his superb guidance, encouragement during the course of this investigation and completion of this research work.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Sanjay Das, Principal Scientist, ICAR Research Complex for NEH Region, Ummiam, Barapani, Meghalaya for his valuable suggestions that helped me immensely in completion of thesis work.

I am extremely grateful to Government of Assam for the permission given to pursue the Ph.D. program at the Assam University.

My sincere thanks goes to all the officers and the consultants of the Project Coordination Unit, ARIAS Society, Khanapara for their superb encouragement which acted as the mental revitalization for me and enable me to complete the research work in time. I can not forget Mr. Osman Hazarika, Assistant Fishery Coordinator, PCU for his marvelous help for completion of my thesis. My sincere thanks are due to District
Coordinator, Nodal NGOs of Golaghat, Dibrugah, Dhubri and Karimganj districts and Zonal Coordinator, South Assam Zone.

Friendship was exemplified to the best by my colleagues Mr. Tirtha Nath Hazarika, Mr. Krishna Kanta Kalita, Mr. Pabitra Talukdar, Mr. Apurba Kr. Das, Mr. Chandan Chetri, Mr. Himanshu Prakash Das, Mr. Bhagaban Kalita, Mr. J.R. Sonwal, Mr. Bhuban Bhuyan, Mr. Manoj Das, Mr. Ajan Mahanta. Their support and encouragement is duly acknowledged.

It gives me all immense sense of satisfaction when I remember the contribution of the villagers with whom I spent most of my intense moment during the study. In fact it is with them that I have gained some experiences. Mere mention is no way of really acknowledging their efforts. I sincerely believe that they are the real centre of the development in today’s context.

I am also highly indebted to my senior & junior faculty mates for their whole hearted encouragement, generous help and support rendered to me. How I will forget my Ph.D colleagues Mr. Anjam Hussain Barbhuiya, H. Puinyabati, Ratnabir Singha, B, Geetaranii, O. Sangeeta, Th. Ranibala, Kh. Binky and Miss Shanta Deb, M. Phill scholar and M. Phill colleague Mr. Bubul Das, M. Phill, for their extreme co-operation during the course of the study.

I am equally grateful to Sri Sanjay Das who helped me in printing the thesis in time.

The author owes all his success to his beloved parents and all the family members, especially my elder brothers Sri Manoranjan Barman and Sri Bhupendra Ch. Barman whose affection, sacrifices and moral support has led to completion of this research program. My sincere gratitude goes to Sri Manoj Kalita and family whose immense help and encouragement attributed me to achieve the goal of my study.

My special thanks go to my wife Srimati Riju Moni Kalita whose constant help and cooperation helped in all aspect that led to success of this program.