ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a pleasure to thank those who have been of immense help during the course of doing this research. It would not have been possible to write this doctoral thesis without the help and support of some persons who have acted as inspiration during my research work.

This thesis would not have been possible without the guidance, support and patience of my supervisor, Prof. Gyan Prakash Pandey. It is he who inspired me to start with my PhD work straightway, just after my masters’ result. His encouragement and inspirational words acted as catalyst in my decision to enroll for doctoral programme. His advice and unsurpassed knowledge of mass media research are the backbone of this doctoral thesis. His constructive criticism and encouragement acted as moral boosters for me during the course of doing this research. I owe my deepest gratitude to Prof. Gyan Prakash Pandey for his able guidance without which this study would not have been possible.

I take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude to the two most important persons of my life. My parents, Rathindranath Bhattacharjee and Aparna Bhattacharjee, have stood as solid pillars through thick and thin, to make my journey of life so wonderful. It is their dream that I am trying to turn into reality through this thesis. I hope this humble effort of mine brings smile on their faces.

My brothers, Reetamarghya and Abhraroop, constantly reminded me of the huge pile of work that I have to complete to give my research work the form of a thesis. I am grateful to them for their encouragement and inspirational words throughout the study. They even helped me actively during the different stages of this research. I express my sincere thanks to them.

I express my sincerest gratitude to my eldest maternal uncle, Prof. Tapodhir Bhattacharjee, for his important academic inputs which have helped me design this study in a better way.
I also take this opportunity to thank my youngest maternal uncle, Tamojit Bhattacharjee, Staff Reporter, Dainik Jugasankha (Silchar), who has acted as an ‘archive’ of newspapers for me. During the period of study I was subscribing both the newspapers that have been used in this research, but due to the whimsicality of the person who delivered the newspapers, I did not receive the newspapers on many days. This is when my uncle came as my savior. He is a person who even has 20 to 25 year old newspapers with him. He helped me out by giving me the newspapers that I did not have. I express my sincere gratitude to him.

I am indebted to my colleagues who have helped me immensely during this research. Dr. Silajit Guha extended his support in more ways than one and very patiently handled my unending questions regarding my research work. I am grateful to him. Dr. Sanjoy Paul also extended his helping hand in a number of occasions whenever I required. I thank him from the core of my heart. My discussions with Prof. K.V.Nagaraj, Ayesha Tahera Rashid, Syed Murtaza Alfarid Hussain, Dr. Paromita Das, Dr. Partho Sarkar, Charvak and Dr. Raghavendra Mishra, helped me to make progress in my work. I express my sincere thanks to them. Saday Chandra Das, Satadal Acharyya, Monoj Kumar Singh and Nabendu Sen, colleagues from other departments of this university, constantly enquired about the status of my research all these years and thus inspired me to make progress. They even helped me in gathering some information relevant to my study. I thank them sincerely.

The non-teaching staffs of my department- Pranab Bhattacharjee, Kutubuddin Ansari and Arindam Sarkar- deserve special mention. Arindamda helped me by giving me access to the library whenever I required. Pranabda and Kutubda helped me in a number of occasions. I express my sincere thanks to them.

My student, who is now a research scholar of this department, Abidur Rahman Barbhuiya, extended his help in a very crucial stage of this research. I thank him from the core of my heart.

A friend is not thanked formally. But I take this opportunity to thank my best friend since kindergarten days- Debanjalee Sen. She is the most wonderful friend a person can get. Her enthusiastic words regarding my research acted as my morale booster. I thank her sincerely.

I cannot forget some persons who are integral to my existence. My grandparents - late Ramanimohan Bhattacharjee, late Tarapada Bhattacharjee and late Aruna Bhattacharjee. Given a chance, I would like to dedicate my thesis to my dearest “Didun” (my grandmother), late Aruna Bhattacharjee. She showed us, through her life, that education is really a man’s greatest asset. She got her doctorate degree posthumously (she passed away at the age of 71) and taught us the lesson that the age of a person can never be a detriment to acquiring knowledge. I feel it befitting to dedicate my doctoral thesis to her, an educationist in the truest sense of the term.
