ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is my pleasant duty to record my sincere thanks and indebtedness to all those persons who have helped me in completing this research project and writing this thesis.

First of all, I express my deep sense of gratitude to my Supervisor Dr. (Mrs.) K. Tikku, of the Department of Political Science, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for her valuable advice, guidance and encouragement to complete my work.

I owe my gratitude to Dr. (Miss) Pam Rajput, Chairperson, Department of Political Science, Panjab University; to Dr. T.R. Sharma and to the members of the faculty of this Department for their kind co-operation and help as also to Mr. Virinder Singh, Research Scholar in this Department.

It is with profound gratitude and sincere appreciation that I acknowledge the invaluable help extended to me by Dr. Lekh Raj Parwana, Under Secretary, Punjab Vidhan Sabha Secretariat, Chandigarh; Sh. Janardhan Singh, Under Secretary, Haryana Vidhan Sabha Secretariat, Chandigarh.

My thanks are also due to the Secretaries of Punjab and Haryana Legislative Assemblies and their staff for making the necessary records available to me.

I would also like to express my gratitude to all of my respondent who, cooperated with me in my task, and through their co-operation, comments and suggestions, enabled me to complete this study.

My sincere thanks are also due to the staff of the Haryana Vidhan Sabha Secretariat Library, Chandigarh; Panjab University Library, Chandigarh; Indian Council of Social Science Research Library, New Delhi; and Indian Institute of Public Administration Library, New Delhi, for their kind help.

My wife, Shila, and children, Lovedeep and Marrilin, through their love, affection and understanding, have always been a source of inspiration and encouragement to me.

I may also express my sense of gratitude and indebtedness to all the writers and scholars whose views have been quoted in this thesis. Lastly, I thank Mr. Chander Mohan Mittal, who toiled day and night to type out this manuscript excellently. I profusely thank him for his service.

KRISHAN LAL