ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me great pleasure to thank all those who have made this work possible. Words seem inadequate in expressing my heartfelt respect and veneration towards my supervisor Dr. Keshav Chander Kaitha, Department of Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for his painstaking guidance and continued encouragement, which enabled me to pursue the intricacies of this research project. His constructive criticism and valuable suggestions at every step of my work have shaped the present version. It was a matter of great privilege to work under a profound scholar like him.

I express my sense of gratitude and feel highly indebted to Dr. (Mrs.) Indrajit Walia, Principal, National Institute of Nursing Education, PESDERA, who gave a befitting direction to me in my moments of stress during the course of this study. But for her inspiration, I would not have been able to undertake this project.

I gratefully acknowledge the respondents for their active involvement and cooperation. But for their responses, the project would not have come in any shape.

A special thanks to my parents Mrs. and Mr. Joginder Singh Dhillon, and all near and dear ones, without whose support and best wishes, it would have been impossible to complete this study. Finally, I would like to mention my beloved children Sunny and Gagan who were always there to support, inspire and bear with me all through the study period and have never ever complained, missing their mother.

It is indeed impossible to thank and express my indebtedness to the Almighty, which has been the apostle of my strength throughout my work.
