ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My deepest sense of gratitude is to Prof. B.B. Tondon, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh, under whose able guidance and supervision this study has been conducted. I would like to acknowledge my debt to Prof. Tondon for his valuable ideas and critical views throughout the writing of this thesis.

I express my sincere thanks to Prof. T.N. Kapoor, Dean, Faculty of Business Management and Commerce, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Dr. S.D. Tripathi, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh who made a vital contribution by creating a congenial atmosphere for research work at the department.

I am grateful to Mr. Jagwant Singh, Lecturer, G.G.D.S.D. College, Chandigarh for his encouraging attitude and for sparing his valuable time to go through an earlier draft and give many useful comments and suggestions.

I acknowledge and appreciate the exchange of ideas with Dr. Manoj Kumar Sharma, Lecturer, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh. His expert opinions on various empirical aspects of research have considerably improved upon the work.
In the preparation of this volume, I have been obliged to friends and well wishers, too numerous to mention. However, I must name a few like Dr. S.C. Vaidhya, Reader, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh, Dr. A.K. Vashishat, Lecturer, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Mr. K.K. Sharma, Assistant Manager, Punjab National Bank, The Mall, Shimla.

My thanks are due to Sh. Surinder Singh Bedi and Sh. Satwant Singh, Librarians, Department of Commerce and Business Management, Panjab University, Chandigarh; and the staff of libraries of Panjab University, Indian Council of Social Sciences Research, Ministry of Finance, Reserve Bank of India and Ratan Tata Library of Delhi University for their assistance in collection of data and library consultations.

I am also thankful to Sh. Anil Kumar, Assistant programmer, Computer Centre, Panjab University, Chandigarh for his help in carrying out the analysis on computer, Mrs. Darshan Kaur, who skilfully typed this dissertation and Ms. Navdeep Kaur, who helped me in correcting the typing mistakes.

I record my sense of gratitude to my respected parents who not only encouraged me in taking up this work but have also shared pains at every moment of the work. I have no hesitation in admitting that for their kind help, I would never have been able to complete this work.

I am also grateful to my respected uncle Dr. Raghbir Dhand, who not only motivated me to do the research work but also remained all the times concerned about the progress of my work, while living at a distant place from India.

Finally, I must acknowledge with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation, the contribution of my husband S.P.S. Gulati and my daughter Gulveen Gulati whose patience and willing cooperation have manifested itself in the tangible form of the present work.

Lecturer in Commerce
Government College
Mohali, Punjab.

[Signature]

(AMANDEEP)