Acknowledgement

It is indeed a privilege and immense pleasure on my part to thank my Supervisor Dr. Niranjan Roy, Associate Professor, Department of Economics, Assam University for initiating me into the domain of Agricultural Economics, for undertaking a research on “A Study of Land Lease Market and Its Implications for Agricultural Efficiency in Barak Valley” and making this research work possible. The work would not have been accomplished without his personal, intellectual and sympathetic help. At a time when I was groping for a suitable research proposal, Dr. N. Roy encouraged me to take up a subject related to the land lease market of Barak Valley to portray a different facet of the region vis-à-vis the Indian mainstream. The encouragement, inspiration and guidance of Dr. Roy render to me during the perusal of the research is indeed immense and cannot be adequately articulated in words. I thank him for the same.

My special thanks goes to Dr. Krishna Ranjan Paul, Principal, R.K. Nagar College for providing the necessary details and the critical approaches with whose I should proceed to the research work. I am deeply indebted to him for his valuable comments, suggestions and critical insights and also for his personal interest in my work.

I take the opportunity to convey my special thanks to all the faculty members of the Department of Economics, Assam University who have collectively contributed to my research in the form of valuable comments and suggestions, especially during the periodical seminars.

It gives me great honour to thank Dr. Bimal Jalan, Honorary Professor, National Council of Applied Economic Research (NCAER), New Delhi for taking keen interest for my work by providing me some materials relating to my topic and for encouraging me. I am grateful to the library authorities of the NCAER, ICSSR, Indian Institute of Public Administration and Institution of Economic Growth, New Delhi for providing me with valuable inputs whenever I contacted them.

I am also deeply indebted to all faculty members of R.K. Nagar College, especially Dr. M. Sharma, Deptt of English, Mrs. D. Naug, Deptt. of Economics and Dr. R.K. Das, Lecturer of Radhamadhab College, who extended all possible help during my research.

My thanks are also due to my family members - my father, brother, sister, wife and son who contributed in various ways to make the research work possible by providing me with the necessary impetus need for such work, especially my mother who was very much eager to be the witness of Ph.D. Degree, but she is not more in the world. But from the beginning of my research work she was my only spiritual guide for which my research work has got the present shape. I owe a special thanks to my son, now two years old, Raza who demonstrated to me beauty of creation and who peppered up work with his innocent frolics - often interested in nothing but in father’s pens and the drafts of the research work. I must here also acknowledge the help and support of my wife Rabia who sympathetically endorsed the marital adjustments. I had to make to complete to research work within scheduled time.

I owe a special debt to Dipan Chakraborty of ‘Nicety Graphics’, 2nd Link Road, Silchar-6, for taking care of the typing, computer editing and printing of the manuscript and nitty-gritty’s associated with bringing out in its final shape.
