ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Coming to the context of acknowledgement guidance received in the preparation of this thesis, I am indebted to my teacher, academic guide and supervisor Dr. Sumanash Dutta, (Professor, Department of Economics, Assam University, Silchar) for his four years of monitoring, guidance, active co-operation and kindness, without whose guidance it could hardly possible for me to prepare this thesis. I am ever grateful to him for the many valuable hours he spent for guiding and helping me to solve numerous questions of Econometrics related to my research work that I had. This was a selfless sacrifice.

I would also like to thank all the staffs, research scholars and students of the Department of Economics for their assistance. I express my gratitude to the University Grants Commission (UGC) as well as Assam University, Silchar for granting me the Stipend for the period of April 2008 to March 2012 and enabling me to complete my work in time.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Prof. Alok Sen, (Head of the Department, Department of Economics, Assam University, Silchar) and I am also thankful to all the teachers of Economics Department for their valuable class lectures, as well as co-operation, which helped me in various ways to prepare this thesis.

I am thankful to my beloved ex-student Alimuddin Sheikh, for his active co-operation during the course of my survey, friends and fellow scholars Amith Roy and Sanjay Sinha, Department of Economics who have helped me in various ways.
I extend my sincere thanks to my loving wife Tahmina Khatun (a research scholar in the Department of Education, Assam University, Silchar) who has stood by me and co-operate in an active manner throughout the years of my research work.

I would also express my sincere gratitude to the char dwellers who selflessly spent time from their scheduled work for giving me information relating to my research study.

There have been host of people, other than those mentioned above who have helped me in more than one ways during this research work. Their timely help meant a lot for me. In this regard, Sahar Bhanu (my mother) and all of my family members, a silent source of inspiration deserve special accolade.

Finally, I would like to thank the Almighty God for enabling me to go through the Ph. D. program.
