ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I gratefully acknowledge my indebtedness to Dr. K. Ramachandrachar, my research guide, for sparing his precious time for many a prolonged and illuminating discussions with me and for having clarified the conceptual and methodological complexities.

I am thankful to Prof. T. Subbarao, Principal of Technical Teachers' Training Institute, Madras for permitting me to undertake this research and for the support made available at various stages of this research study.

The Principals of the three Polytechnics in Madras viz., Central Polytechnic, Ramakrishna Mission Technical Institute and Government Women's Polytechnic deserve my sincere thanks for permitting me to collect the data required for the study from their institutions.

I am indebted to Prof. B.J. Fraser, Head of the School of Curriculum Studies in Western Australian Institute of Technology, Prof. M.J. Subkoviak of the Department of Educational Psychology in the University of Wisconsin at Madison, Prof. H.J. Walberg of the College of Education in the University of Illinois at Chicago and Prof. P.H. Taylor of the Department of Curriculum Studies in the University of Birmingham for sending me their valuable publications which were very useful to me in designing this study.

Sincere appreciation is expressed to the British Council Library at Madras for their special efforts to get the literature required by me from the U.K.

I am grateful to Mr. C. Chellappan, Assistant Professor in the Computer Centre of Anna University at Madras for preparing the Programmes needed for analysing the data of the study.
