ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I thank all those who have helped me in my academic accomplishment, and my special thanks are due to Dr. R. C. Hiremath, my teacher and guide, for his encouragement ever since the days of the Summer School of Linguistics at Dehradun in 1957. His able guidance and timely advice have stood me in good stead throughout. Words fail to express my indebtedness to him.

I must also thank Mr. P. K. Khandoba, my favourite old student of mine, presently working as lecturer in Basaveshwar College, Bagalkot, for his ready help in collecting the necessary data. Among all the informants he has been the main source of information for me. My thanks are also due to Dr. H. D. Lamani of the Department of Hindi, Karnatak University, Dharwad, for his valuable suggestions.

Finally, I record my indebtedness to Dr. M. V. M. Swamy, Professor and Head, Institute of Kannada Studies, for his help.
