Any work of research is a joint venture. There are many whose support was crucial for me to complete the project. Foremost among them is Prof. Sajal Nag, my supervisor. I sincerely express my gratitude to him for his advice and suggestions. I would not have ventured into the study of historical calamities had it not been for his constant encouragement which steadily built my confidence.

My colleagues in the Department of History, Tripura University, Prof. Satyadeo Poddar, Dr. Sukhiendu Debbarna, Sri Francis Hrangkhawl and Sri Lincoln Reang were always enthusiastic about my research. I am grateful to them for taking additional workload while I was on leave to collect archival materials. My gratitude also goes to the authorities of Tripura University, particularly to Prof. Arunoday Saha, Vice-Chancellor for granting me study leave.

Thanks are also due to my well-wishers Prof. Mahadev Chakravarti, Prof. Dipak Kumar Choudhuri, Prof. Nikhil Kumar, Sri Abhijit Choudhury, Dr. Bela Das, Dr. Gurudas Das, Dr. R.N. Datta Purkayastha, Smti. Morsumi Purkayastha and little Dipto who have constantly goaded me on to finish the work in time. A special word of thankfulness goes to Prof. Virginius Xaxa who had arranged for my long stay at New Delhi. Dr. Sunil Dey of the Department of Geography and Disaster Management, Tripura University had come at a crucial juncture to rescue me from a crisis and I am beholden to him for the favour he had done me.

I am extremely indebted to the staff and authorities of the Assam State Archives, Guwahati; Secretariat Record Room, Guwahati; Record Room, Government of Meghalaya, Shillong; National Archives, New Delhi and Central Secretariat Library, New Delhi for allowing me to consult documents in their rich repositories.

My parents-in-law Sri Joynarayan Bhattacharjee and Smti Chhabi Chakraborty always stood behind me during the course of this work. My father, Prof. Bani Prasanna Misra had at all times encouraged me to go for academic excellence and suggested valuable insights on the history Assam from his personal experience. Words are insufficient to express my appreciation to my wife Smti. Joyeeta Bhattacharjee who had to manage household chores while I was busy reading and writing.

I also express my sincere appreciation to Messrs. Jnan Bichitra Prakashani, Agartala for making all out effort to bring out the finished product in a short span of time.

Last but not the list, my sincerest gratitude goes to my mother Smti. Swapna Misra who almost single handedly raised me against all odds and supported my academic endeavour. I have no qualms to say that whatever little I have achieved in life is due to her efforts and sacrifices. I humbly dedicate the present work to her.

While my debts, both general and specific are many in a venture of this sort, I accept the sole responsibility for any errors that might have inadvertently crept into this work.
