Acknowledgement

At the outset, I take the opportunity to extend my heartfelt gratitude to Prof. Sajal Nag, Dept. of History, Assam University, Silchar, who is the main source of motivation to carry on this research work. It is for his consistent support, positive suggestions and constant co-operation, this Ph.D dissertation is going to see the light of the day.

The generous help and encouragement received from Prof. Alok Tripathi, HOD, and Dr. Mrs. Surysikha Pathak, of the Dept. of History Assam University, Silchar would be treasured in my heart with honour and gratitude. It is because of the prompt initiative and co-operation of Prof. Gopalji Mishra, Dean, Jadunath Sarkar School of Social Sciences, this Ph.D thesis has passed through different stages smoothly and I owe a great deal to all of them for their kind co-operation.

It is my bounded duty to express my deep sense of owe to Sri Ranjit Goa&a, the elder of Silchar Presbyterian Mission, for his all out effect to make books, souvenirs, journals, relevant documents and records available for me from the Presbyterian Churches of the Barak Valley as when demanded by me.

I would be untrue to my conscience if I do not acknowledge the contribution of source of the veteran citizens Pran Kr. Sinha, S.R. Upadhay, Dayal Patra, T.Ghosh, M.Christian and others of my neighbourhood who are the eye – witnesses of different incidents and occurrence of the pre-independence era in Barak Valley and they have strained themselves to the core to narrate those incidents accurately from the memories and their versions and tell-fold incidents are really found to be of immense help to me to write my Ph.D dissertation.

I am greatly indebted to the librarian Mr. Pradip Singha, Central Library, Janata College, Kabuganj, Librarian of District Library Silchar, Librarian and the staff of Central Library, A.U. Silchar, Librarian and the staff of North-Eastern Hill University Library, Shillong; Members of OM Book Publishers, Shillong, staffs of Presbyterian Theological Book Centre, Shillong, Principal Presbyterian Theological College Aizawl, Director and office staff of Presbyterian Theological Book Center, Shillong, Director and office staff of Durlang Presbyterian Hospital Aizawal, Chairman and staff of Mizoram Presbyterian synod office Aizawal and all the members of the Baptist Theological College, Jorhat. They did never hesitate to supply me required books, journals, records and reports lying in their custody. I am especially thankful to all the staff members of the Missionary Archive, Aizawal, for their great help for collection of different data at the primary level.

Another lady of intellectual excellence Dr. (Mrs.) B.R. Das, Associate Professor, Deptt. of Bengali, G.U. has been all the time very supportive to provide me valuable materials to prepare this write up.
