ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am most grateful to Professor Jagdish Chander, M.A., Ph.D. for his invaluable help at all stages of this work. But for his unstinting advice and guidance it would have been difficult to complete this task. I cannot thank him sufficiently for all that he has done for me.

The American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad has been most generous in giving me a research fellowship for about sixteen weeks and a grant-in-aid. I am obliged to the staff of the Centre for their willingness to help me in solving many a tricky problem. It has been a pleasure to stay and work at the Centre. I am thankful to the U.S.I.S. and U.S.E.F.I. for their assistance in procuring some valuable materials for me, which were not readily available in this country.

I owe to Professor R.N. Dogra, Director, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, a debt of gratitude for granting me leave of absence from the Institute. I am thankful to my colleagues in the Department of Humanities and Social Sciences who shared not only my teaching load during my absence from the department but also put up with my pre-occupation with the subject and were willing to discuss it with me. whenever I had no other audience.

It is my very pleasant duty to acknowledge my gratitude to Professors Philip Young and Carlos Baker, Mr. A. E. Hotchner, and Mrs. Mary Hemingway who responded to my letters and thus helped me to understand the subject of this study better.

I am indebted to the Librarian and other members of the staff of the I. I. T. Library for extending their whole-hearted co-operation to me. Mr. K. P. Bhatnagar has typed this dissertation efficiently; I am thankful to him too.

I also wish to acknowledge the co-operation of my wife and children who in their affectionate ways encouraged me to undertake this work and finish it.

Vishwanath
