ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my gratitude to Professor J. Sethi, my supervisor, for readily agreeing to supervise my work; for guiding me so patiently, so assiduously and so conscientiously; and for bearing with me in spite of all my aberrations and rather taxing demands.

Late Professor Jagdish Chander and Professor (Mrs) Nirmal Mukherjee, former and present Heads of the English Department, Panjab University, Chandigarh and Professor M.L. Raina, Panjab University, Chandigarh, for motivating and inspiring me from time to time to carry the project to a successful conclusion.

Professor R.K. Bansal, Dr T. Balasubramanian, Dr Prabhakar Babu and Mr Devidas, all eminent teachers of the CIEFL, Hyderabad, for the guidance I had to seek from them from time to time on certain problem areas of phonetics.

Mr C.K. Vijaya, Technical Officer, Language Laboratory, CIEFL, Hyderabad, for providing all the facilities at the CIEFL language laboratory and for devoting his time.

all the teachers of English who participated in the project as speakers, for their patiently going through the long corpus and their active cooperation and interest shown in the project.
University Grants Commission for giving me financial assistance to partly meet the expenses involved in the project

Principal, S.C.D. Government College, Ludhiana for granting me leave and other facilities required from time to time and for encouraging me to undertake this project my various colleagues in the English Department, for their very kind cooperation, which they heartily extended whenever it was asked for

The Librarians of Panjab University, Chandigarh, CIEFL, Hyderabad, Extension University Library, Ludhiana, and Government College, Ludhiana, for making available to me books and reading/reference materials on demand at various times

Mr Narinder Sharma of Punjab Agricultural University, Ludhiana for helping me in the preparation of the long transcription charts and in typing-out the thesis with diligence and perseverance

Mr Surinder Kumar Bansal of M/s Super Publications, Jalandhar, for making available to me the typewriter used for typing out the thesis

Mr R.K. Jindal, New Delhi, for his kind assistance in getting my long transcription charts reduced and photocopied.

Apart from the long list of people who helped me professionally in my job, there are indeed some without whose moral support and inspiration I could not have achieved this goal. First and foremost in this list is my wife, Prem Lata, without whose cheering and encouraging demeanour I could not proceed with the project. Next in this list come my sons, Vivek and Vikas, who constantly goaded me on to work in spite of numerous and varied inconveniences caused to them. Last, but not the least, comes Ramu, my attendant boy, who was ever ready to respond to my calls with a smile.

I would feel extremely guilty if I did not express my thanks to the Almighty God, whose kind grace has made it possible for me to complete my work with courage and confidence.
