ACKNOWLEDGMENT

This thesis is the end of my journey in obtaining Ph.D and it has been kept on track and been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of many people which includes my well-wishers, friends, colleagues and various institutions. I would like to express my gratitude and appreciation to all those who have made it possible for me to come this far and want to offer my sincere thanks to all of them. This thesis appears in its current form because of their assistance and guidance.

I would like to start with the Almighty; I thank God for giving me the opportunity and granting me the capability to proceed successfully.

Next in the line of valuable people falls Dr Suman Dhanda, my supervisor for accepting me as Ph.D. student. Her warm encouragement, invaluable help, advice, thoughtful guidance, critical comments, and correction of the thesis is what have brought it to completion today. She gave me moral support and freedom I needed to move on. Under her guidance I successfully overcame many difficulties and learned a lot. I am blessed with the opportunity to have a mentor like mam. Her unflinching courage and conviction will always inspire me and I hope to continue to work with her noble thoughts. Appreciation is extended to Associate professor Dr Jasbir Dhanda, Department of Biochemistry, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra. I warmly thank him for his valuable advice, constructive criticism and his extensive discussions around my work.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. Ashok Aggarwal, Chairman, Department of Biochemistry, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for providing the necessary facilities in the Department for the completion of research work.

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge the UGC, Government of India, New Delhi, for providing financial assistance in the form of Junior Research Fellowship which buttressed me to perform my work comfortably. I also wish to thank CDFD, Hyderabad for MALDI analysis of samples.

My special thanks goes to Dr. Pooja Attri and Dr. Drukshakshi Jodha, my seniors for their support, generous care and homely feeling in hostel. They were always beside me during the happy and hard times to push me and motivate me. It’s my fortune to gratefully acknowledge the support of some special individuals. Many thanks to my labmates Dr. Vandana Moudgil, Dr. Tejinder Pal Khaket, Dr. Himanshu Aggarwal, Poonam Aggarwal, Surender, Kapil, Raman and Neeraj. It is said that a journey is easier when you travel together and interdependence is certainly more cherished than independence. I would like to acknowledge the contribution of all my friends in terms of their encouragement and support.

My special appreciation goes to Preeti for her friendship and encouragement. It would have been a lonely lab without her. I wish to thank my friends Dr Suman Kandola, Neelam, Netrapal Shekhawat, Guddu, Deepansh Sharma, Meena Kharab and Aparna Prabakar for their constant support and motivation. Kanika and Vatsla deserve special mention here for their constant love and support. I would also like to extend huge thanks to my room mates Manisha, Ritu, Richa and Sonu.

I warmly thank and appreciate my Father Sh. Gulshan Gandhi and mother Mrs Sushma Gandhi, my grandmother ‘Jhai Ji’ and my mother and father-in-law Mrs Mridula Vohra and Sh Gulshan Vohra for their unconditional love and material and spiritual support in all aspects of my life. I also would like to thank my brother Gaurav and sister in law Karen for their love and assistance they provided in numerous ways and not to forget my little cute niece Alisha and Pari for making me smile every time I see them. I would also like to thank all my extended family members.

Last but not least, my deepest appreciation is accorded to my dearest husband, Mr Varun Vohra for the enormous amount of love, support and sacrifice he has given. Without his support and encouragement, I could not have finished this work. It was he, who kept the fundamentals of our family and thanks doesn’t do the justice with my feelings for him. He was always there cheering me up and stood by me through the thin and thick of times. I dedicate this thesis to my beloved husband and my parents.

I would like to thank administrative and technical staff members of the Department and University who helped me in their respective roles.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of my thesis, as well as expressing my apology for any mistake.
