TABLE OF CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I: Prolegomena.

CHAPTER II: Meaning, conflicting ideas and theories of property.

CHAPTER III: The Concept of property and conflict and confusion in the Constituent Assembly.

CHAPTER IV: Abolition of Zamindaris and the Supreme Court.

CHAPTER V: Agrarian Revolution and the Supreme Court - Different aspects of the second phase of agrarian revolution.

CHAPTER VI: Urbanisation and the Supreme Court.

CHAPTER VII: Control of economy - Regulation and the Supreme Court.

CHAPTER VIII: Nationalisation and the Supreme Court.

CHAPTER IX: A miscellany of Supreme Court decisions on Right to Property.

)---oOo---(
ANALYTICAL TABLE OF CONTENTS.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CHAPTER</th>
<th>I: Prolegomena.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A.</td>
<td>Prologue to an epilogue.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B.</td>
<td>Villain or the Victim.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C.</td>
<td>The Background canvass of the economic problems and the end and means of economic justice set by founding fathers.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1. The new perspective.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>2. The Socio-Economic problems and imperatives.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>3. Constituent Assembly and our Objectives.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>4. Choice between peaceful accelerated evolutionary Socio-Economic Progress or invitation to violent inevitable revolution.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D.</td>
<td>The Nature of the Supreme Court.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1. The Constitution, Jurisdiction and composition of the Supreme Court.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>2. The judicial power and relative importance of the Institution.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>E.</td>
<td>Constitutional Significance of right to property and confrontation between the Parliament and the Supreme Court.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F.</td>
<td>The novel methodological problem-cum-purpose oriented projection.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CHAPTER</th>
<th>II: Meaning, Conflicting ideas and theories of property.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A.</td>
<td>General.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B.</td>
<td>Meaning of Property.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1. A multidimensional notion.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>2. Meaning of property, the Indian statutes and the Constitution and the Supreme Court.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
C. Conflicting ideas on the Institution of Property.
D. Theories of Property.
1. The Occupation Theory.
2. Labour Theory of Property.
3. Metaphysical or Personal Theory of Property.
4. Philosophical Theory of Property.
5. Social Trust Theory of Property.
8. Theory of Property as a function not a right.
E. Conclusions: Need for a new relativity Theory of Property.

CHAPTER III: The Concept of Property and Conflict, and Confusion in the Constituent Assembly.
A. Relevancy and value of the travaux préparatoires in the interpretation of the provisions of the Constitution.
1. General.
2. Relevancy of debates in the Constituent Assembly.
B. The Constituent Assembly - Preparation for deliberations.
1. The Character and the Composition of the Constituent Assembly.
2. Evolution of Constitutional protection of Right to Property prior to Constituent Assembly.

(ii) Government of India Act 1935 and Protection against legislature.

3. Convening of the Constituent Assembly.

4. The draft Constitution prepared by the Constitutional Adviser.

5. The Drafting Committee.

6. Discussion in the Sub-Committee on Fundamental Rights.

7. Proceedings of the Advisory Committee on Fundamental Rights, Minorities and others.

C. The Concept of Right to Property and Compensation - Conflict and Confusion in the Constituent Assembly.

D. Conclusion.

CHAPTER IV: Abolition of the Zamindaris and the Supreme Court.

A. General.

B. Clauses (4) and (6) of Article 31 and the Courts.

1. General.

2. Pendency of the Bills.

3. Challenge by the Zamindars.

C. Conclusion.
CHAPTER V: Agrarian Revolution and the Supreme Court - Different aspects of the Second Phase of Agrarian Revolution.

A. General: The evolution of Agrarian Policy.

B. The Problem of Land.

C. Institutional changes, land reforms and social justice.

D. Abolition of Estates other than those covered by Article 31 (4) and (6).

E. Tenancy Reforms.
   1. The problems and measures of tenancy reforms.
      (i) Regulation of rents through fixation.
      (ii) Security of Tenure.
      (iii) Conferment of Right to Ownership on tenants.

F. Regulation and Management.

G. Distributive Justice - Agricultural Land and the Supreme Court.
   1. The desideratum of Ceiling on holdings.
   2. Judicial process of the Supreme Court and Ceiling enactments.

H. Consolidation and prevention of fragmentation of holdings.

I. Debt Relief.

J. The Great Debate: The Omnipotent Parliament! vs. The omniscient Supreme Court!
   1. General.
   2. The First shot: Shankariprasad misfired.
3. The second attempt: Sajjan Singh frustrated.
4. The third onslaught: Golaknath, a personal loser and a general conqueror.
5. The fourth round: Kesavananda undecided - a dismayed decision.
6. Confusion worse confounded.

K. Conclusion.

CHAPTER VI: Urbanisation and the Supreme Court.
A. General.
B. The problems of housing accommodation.
C. Slum Clearance Schemes.
D. Town Planning and preparation of Master Plans.
E. Tenancy protection.
F. Settlement of Refugees.
G. Widening of Roads.
H. Rent Control.
I. Conclusion.

CHAPTER VII: Control of Economy - Regulation and the Supreme Court.
A. General: The universal recognition for the control of the economy.
B. Judicial Review of Regulatory Legislation.
   1. Temporary management of Industries.
   2. Winding up of the Companies.
   3. Labour Regulations.
4. Licensing.
5. Controls.
7. Fairs and Exhibitions.
8. Soil Preservation.
10. Regulation of leases.
C. Conclusion.

CHAPTER VIII: Nationalisation and the Supreme Court.
A. General: The need for State Ownership.
B. Nationalisation of Electrical undertakings.
C. Nationalisation of Road Transport.
D. Nationalisation of Mines.
E. Nationalisation of Tendu Leaves.
F. Nationalisation of Banks.
H. Conclusion.

CHAPTER IX: Miscellany of Supreme Court decisions on Right to Property.
A. General.
B. Taxation.
C. Seizures and Penalties.
D. Public Health.
E. Evacuee Property.
F. Endowments.
G. Education.
H. Services.
I. Pre-emption.
J. Abolition of Grants.
K. Acquisition of land for industrial purposes.
L. Can a foreign company claim the fundamental rights under Article 19 (1) (f)?
M. Can the Union Government acquire the property belonging to a State Government and vice versa?
N. Acquisition of land for military purposes.
O. Trade Marks.
P. Compulsory insurance of goods under emergency.
Q. Is M.L.A's salary a property?
R. Is annual cash bonus payable by L.I.C. a property?
S. Exemption by State of agricultural hilly land.
T. Requisition of movable property.
U. Does cession of territory amount to compulsory acquisition of property.
V. Can a person whose title to ownership is in dispute claim fundamental right to property?
W. Right of maintenance against ex-ruler.
X. Does cancellation of contract by the Government amount to violation of Article 31.
Y. Law for promotion of exports.
Z. Conclusion.
CHAPTER X: Epilogus: Conspectus, appraisement and Prospectus - Judgment of Judgments.

A. General.

B. Doctrinaire approach of the Supreme Court.
   1. The moribund Doctrine of eminent domain.
      (i) The problem of location of eminent domain in the Constitution.
      (ii) The concept of public purpose in the context of socialistic pattern of society.
      (iii) The importation of occidental controversial conception of the concept of compensation and the oriental imperatives of socio-economic justice.

2. The Police State disappears - but the doctrine of police power continues.

3. The need for a new comprehensive doctrine of Social Macro-Power and individual micro right to property.

   (i) The application of the doctrine of colourable legislation and fraud on the Constitution.
   (ii) Colourable judicial amendatory negative legislation.

   1. Magnitude and direction - Review of Judicial Review.
   2. Incidence and pattern of participation of individual judges.
   3. Variegated stands and varied trends in the ideology of Supreme Court.
   4. Poverty of philosophy of property and poverty.
D. .. The demise of right to property as a fundamental right.
E. .. An idealistic - Pragmatic Alternative.