ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The thought of doing doctoral study in mass media has been in my mind ever since 1 completed Masters in Mass Communication in 2001. Over time that thought turned into a dream. Two of my teachers, Dr. G. P. Pandey and Dr. V. P. Singh’s encouragement turned that dream into an obsession, and their guidance helped me to turn this dream into reality. I was extremely fortunate to get both of them as my supervisors.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. V. P. Singh and Dr. G. P. Pandey for their able guidance without which the study would not have been possible.

Dr. Pandey, with his vast experience and Dr. V.P. Singh, with his deep insight into social research, virtually thrashed out all incongruences and guided the study to right track. Their enlightened criticism and openness made me confident to delve deep into the topic in which no academic work has been undertaken in the valley. My best regards for them.

Reports of experts on my research proposal were confidence boosters for me while some of their observation helped me a lot. Among them Prof. Muzoo, Dr. G. Ram, deserve special mention.

As the present work is an empirical one and mainly based on field work of the study areas, I owe my special thanks to the villagers of Kayasthagram and the residents of Malugram, Rangu khari and Das Colony areas.

My friends, Gaurav Pal, Neel Nandy, Sharmistho Dutta, Partha Das, Partha Das Gupta, Pinky were extremely helpful thoughout the study. My special thanks to them.

I do not know if it is possible to dedicate a thesis to any one. But, if it is, then I would like to dedicate this study to my Mother, Late. Mrs. Vandana Das, and Father Mr. B.B. Das who are my strength and constant inspiration. Last but not the least, a very special thanks to my family members and relatives who has been connected with this study and extended help at every stage. It would not be fair on my part not to mention the name of the person who has supported me though thick and thin during the study, Mr. Gautam Goswami.
