APPENDIX - I
SOCIO-POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS

For existence and stability of every social structure, there is need to have some system or organization in it. The urban Barman community has a number of socio-cultural and socio-political organizations in addition to the main executive body Silchar Dimasa Samaj. Their objectives are to protect and preserve their cultural identity and historical heritage as well as to carry out various socio-economic developmental programmes for upliftment of the Barman community of Cachar district as a whole. Through these organizations the distinguished persons of their community want to integrate the rural Barmans and urban Barmans for their social, cultural and economic upliftment.

Besides Silchar Dimasa Samaj, there are some other organizations whose objectives are different from one another, viz, Nikhil Cachar Haidimba Barman Samiti, Dimasa Sanskriti Parisad, Dimasa Historical Heritage Foundation, Silchar Bahumuki Barman Mohila Samity, All Dimasa Students Union, Phonglo Assam Association and Langtasa welfare Association.

Nikhil Cachar Haidimba Barman Samiti

Nikhil Cachar haidimba Barman Samiti is one of the strongest and oldest social organizations of the Barmans of Barak Valley. This organization has got its initiation within a public meeting of all Barmans of Cachar held on 31st December 1945 A.D. in the temple of the Goddess Ranachandi of Bijaypur a Barman village under Borkhola police station. After 25-30 years of the reign of the Kacharii kings, all the Barmans of Cachar tied up in a common thread through this organization. Since then this organization has been working for socio-economic upliftment of the poor and peace, harmony and brotherhood among the Barmans of Barak Valley. In 1981 this organization was registered under the society Act. Mr. Manindra Kumar Barman (Borkhola) was the founder president and Mr. Digombar Barman (Darmikhal) was the founder general secretary of this organization. Other executive members were Nirad Chandra Barman (Dolai), Nanigopal Barman (Bijoypur), Bhabendra Barman (Taligram), Rajendra Barman (Doloichoda), Lalitmohan Barman (Joypur), Chandramoni Barman (Dholai), Shailesh Barman (Armikhal), Anil Chandra Barman (Darmikhal), Ramchandra Barman (Bijoypur) and Kalisadoy Barman (Dolu). But within one or two years, the president of this organization was replaced by Mr. Nirod Chandra Barman. Besides socio-economic development, this organization gives emphasis on social, economic, literacy, cultural, educational and political upliftment of the Barmans of Cachar district (Barman 2006: 57-58).

The Samiti struggled for a long time to register the Barmans as ‘Plains Barman’ in the list of Scheduled Tribes in the Indian constitution. As a result the Barmans in Cachar are identified as a Scheduled Tribe of Plains (S.T.P). Under the provision of Article 342, the Barmans in Cachar are enjoying a lot of facilities provided by the constitution for the Scheduled Tribes in India. Therefore, the Barmans of Cachar get priority in Government services for the Scheduled Tribes (Barman 2006: 53).

This Samiti has reviewed a historical decision of the Kachari kings. During the reign of the Kachari Kings some Barmans were ex-communicated by the Kings due to their failure to fulfil some obligation. Those ex-communicated 60-70 families were living in Nunchudi, Katakhal and Leurbond villages of Cachar. The Haidimba Barman Samities has re-admitted them in the Barman society and the Barman people have recognized them for martial relations (Barman 2006: 58).

Besides, the Samiti has taken significant decisions such as curtailment of elaborate marriage custom, minimization bride price, of duck, hen and pig domestication within the boundary of a village in order to maintain better health and hygiene.

The Samiti is concerned about the exploited labours. Around 1940s the Samiti concluded an agreement with Timber Merchants. At that time the Timber Merchant appointed the Barmans as a trained labourers in their business. About 6-7 months in a year they remain engaged in dense forests by making temporary camp there. But the Merchants did not provide them proper daily wages, balanced diet, medicines, etc. and they lived hand-to-mouth. Under the terms and conditions of the agreement in 1999, the Samiti pressurized them to improve the condition of those daily labourers by increasing their wages, providing fish, meat and other nutritious meals at least once in a week; necessary medicines and to grant them leave with full payment during the period of illness. As a result the Merchants have to fulfill these demands (Barman 2006: 58).

The Samiti also extends support for improvement of technology in cultivation, weaving, handicraft, etc. and a lot of people have been benefited. Under Article 275 one state dispensary was opened by this Samiti in Thaligram village of Khaspur for welfare of the poor people in 1977 A.D. (Barman 2006: 58).
In order to disseminate education, the Samiti has remarkably worked for establishment of many schools and their provicialisation, opening of hostels and appointment of Scheduled Tribe teachers in the Barman areas. Almost every Barman village has primary or high school; viz., Raja Gobindra Chandra Memorial High School in Borkhola, Bam Nittyananda Public High School, Joypur Rajabazar Ramchnadra Barman Public High School, Khaspur Krishnadhan Barman M.E.School, Khaspur Krishnadhan Barman Janakee Roy Memorial High School, Langalachara Baniram Barman Public M. E. School, Hairam Barman Dinomoyee Shuklarance Rajabazar Maddha Banga Biddyaloy, Hawaithang High School, Nikama M.E. School, Nikama High School and so on. For the schools the required land and money was donated by the local Barman people. The schools are named after their donors. In response to the request of the Haidimba Barman Samiti, many hostels have been established from the Scheduled Tribes Development fund of the State Government such as Gbinda Chandra Memorial High School (Borkhola), Morii High School (Shalgagnga) Ramcjhnadra Barman Public High School (Joypur Rajabazar) and Bam Nittananda High School (Dholai). For spreading education, the Samiti established a Barman hostel named Barman Chatrabash (est. 1954A.D.) at Tarapur in Silchar for the Dimasa and Barman students from North Cachar Hills, Karbi Anglong and the village of Cachar (Barman 2006: 58-59).

In 28th annual meeting in 1973A.D. this Samiti placed 18 proposals before the Government related to education, medical facility, health and hygiene, drinking water, club, library, temple, communication, bridge, historical temple, tribal belt formation and various socio-economic development in different Barman villages of Cachar. Since 1980 A.D., this organization has been loosing its connection with most of its subbranches and resultanty, it has lost its impact on Barman society. This degradation owes to deaths of most of the founder members of the Samiti, decline in respect towards elders and so on. After its extreme degradation the Samiti has regained its strength in 2000 A.D. with the support from many well wishers. The Samiti has again engaged in various developmental works for upliftment of the Barmans and Cachar district (Barman 2006: 60-61).

Time to time the organization placed many demands before the Government. Some of the demands are as follows:

1. Reservation of Seats for Scheduled Tribes (S.T.) population

Being a registered organization it is entitled to get financial assistance from Government through Tribal Development Department. Besides, many times M. P. s, M.L.A.s and Ministers have donated funds to the organization. All the executive members of the body have to subscribe Rs. 20/- per month for its functioning. The executive body utilizes the funds in the following ways:

(i) For publication of books especially on Dimasa-Kachari history and literature written by Barman people.
(ii) Annual worship of the lord Shiva in Sonai Shiva Tila temple in the month of Kartik mash (November) of the Bengali calendar.

(iii) For the expenditure of their annual meetings.

(iv) For providing free training in their traditional dance and music especially to enthusiastic Barman youths.

This organization welcome all the Barman people of Cachar district who are interested in the field of their traditional music and dance. Any one who violates its rules is expelled from the Organization. This organization conducts the traditional music and dance items on invitation. The Sanskriti Parishad has constructed its own building near the Employment Exchange, India Club Road, Silchar, from the grant-in-aid by the State Govt. and Govt. of India (Source: S. C. Barman, president).

Silchar Bahumukhi Barman Mohila Samity

The Barman Mohila Samity, a social welfare organisation, established on the 18th August 1994, aims to carry out the activities for welfare of socio-economic, literary and cultural upliftment of the women folk of Barman community. Its executive body consists of the following members:

1. President - Smti. Sarupama Barman
2. Vice-President - Smti. Niroda Barman
3. General Secretary - Smti. Obja Barman
4. Assistant Secretary - Smti. Gita Rani Barman
5. Treasurer - Smti. Uma Sashi Barman

The main objectives of this Samiti are as follows:

(i) Socio-economic and literary development of the Barman womenfolk.
(ii) Cultural upliftment among the Barman people.

(iii) Movement against all kinds of social evils which demoralize social prestige of the Barman women.

(iv) Promotion of commercial plantation of Endi-muga, Mulbery silk, etc.

(v) Encouragement of the womenfolk in the activities of weaving, spinning, tailoring and knitting and arrangement of training classes.

(vi) Helping the most needy women by monetary support purchasing handloom and sewing machines.

(vii) Encouraging the unemployed women of different kinds for food-producing and food-processing activities.

(viii) Encouraging the women for different kinds of cottage industries.

(ix) Campaigning for prohibition of alcohol in the district.

(x) Launching movement against all blind prejudices.

To fulfil these objectives, the Samiti possesses a fund raised from the contributions of the executive members of Rs. 25/- each, per month, and other interested members of their community and also by donations. The Samiti holds annually a meeting of the executive committee to assess their activities. Besides, whenever necessity arises, the executive members hold their meetings. But the Samiti does not have its own building and therefore their meetings are held in the house of any member (Source: Smti. Obja Barman General Secretary).

Dimasa Historical Heritage Foundation

Dimasa Historical Heritage Foundation established in 2005, initiated research works on ancient historical places of Dimasa-Kachari for protection and preservation of their historical heritage. It has a strong body with efficient and interested members.

The members of this body are:

1. President - Sri. Uttam Chand Barman
2. Vice-President - Sri Ratan Moni Barman
3. Secretary - Sri Shumit Kumar Barman

and other 22 executive members.

The research workers conduct their works mainly in Khaspur, Sonai-Shivtila and other historical places in the district of Cachar. The president Sri Uttam Chand Barman, Biswajoti Barman, Gouri Sen, Tushar Kanti Nath and many other writers wrote many books and articles on Dimasa-Kachari history and Literature. They collect data from elderly persons living in the villages of Khashpur. To conduct research work, the committee managed its own funds (Source: Sri U.C. Barman, president).

All Dimasa Students Union
