It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge the help received by me from various sources in the course of my research and the preparation of my thesis.

First and foremost, I must place on record my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. M.S. Chennaveereiah, M.Sc., Ph.D., B.Sc. (Montreal), Professor and former Head of the Department of Botany in the Karnatak University, Dharwad for his kindness in supervising my research and in guiding me in the finalisation of the draft of my thesis.

I am grateful to the Management of St. Agnes College, Mangalore and to the Principal, Sr. Aloysius, A.C., for their graciousness in encouraging me to undertake my research and facilitating the completion of the project by their kind co-operation.

My grateful thanks are also due to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi for awarding the Teacher Fellowship under the Faculty Improvement Programme, to the Director of Collegiate Education for granting the required study leave, to Mr. E. Belliday, Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, England, for confirming the identification of Wahlenbergia...
marginalia and Lobelia tenuior, to Mr. R.S. Desai, artist for his timely assistance, to my research colleagues specially to Miss Sadha Devi, A.N. and friends for their kind help.

(Leela Rao)