ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am deeply indebted to the Karnatak University Dharwad, for according kind permission, to prepare my doctoral dissertation entitled "Human Resource Development Interventions and their Effects on Productivity, at Different Levels, in an Organisation, with Special Reference to Kanoria Industries Limited, Bagalkot" and including it in their distinguished research collection.

I have a special debt of gratitude to my guide, Dr. B. M. Wali, retired Reader in Commerce, Karnatak University, who has been an eternal source of inspiration and has genuinely and methodically guided me, at each stage, to carry out this work in time. I consider myself lucky to be enlightened from his profound scholarship, for which I will remain, ever grateful.

I take this opportunity, to sincerely thank the Chairman, Dr. H. M. Shirur, the secretary, Sri. K. S. Deshpande, of Vidya Prasarak Mandal, Bagalkot, and all the members of its managing council, for having permitted me and encouraging me always, to proceed with this study.

With a deep sense of pride, I wish to express my heartfelt gratitude to Shri. M. L. Daga, Director, Kanoria Industries Ltd., Bagalkot for having permitted me to undertake this study, which is with reference to his company. The ever ready help and guidance extended by Sri. S. K. Minocha, Sri. Prakash Katti, Sri. M. Prabhakar Rao and the valuable co-operation extended by all the staff members of Kanoria Industries, by responding to my questionnaire, can never be forgotten by me. I am indeed, highly indebted to them.

I must record my gratitude to Prof. C.M. Kotturshetti, Head of the P.G. Department of Commerce, Karnataka University, Prof. K.S. Daniel and all other staff members of the same Department, for their valuable suggestions and timely guidance.

I would like to specially thank Dr. A.G. Mudbidri, Prof. and Head of the P.G. Department of Sociology, Karnataka University, for his valuable assistance, at each stage of my study.

I am sincerely thankful to the librarians of Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Bombay, N.I.S.I.E.T., I.C.S.S.R., National Council for Cement and Building Materials and Osmania University, Hyderabad, Karnataka University, Dharwad, N. M. College, of Commerce and Economics, Bombay, for extending me all possible help, to collect secondary data from their libraries.

I wish to record my appreciation of gratitude, for the spontaneous help extended by Prof. T.V. Rao, Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, Fr. Abraham S. J. of Xavier Labour Relations Institute, Jamshedpur, and the Academy of H.R.D., Ahmedabad, by furnishing me the necessary information related to my study.

I am also thankful to Dr. Muddapur, Dept. of Statistics, Karnataka University, Dharwad, Dr. A.R. Wadkannavar, Kittel College, Dharwad and Prof. H.S. Pujar of Basaveshwar Science College, Bagalkot, for their valuable help in making statistical analysis.

The co-operative attitude of all my institutional colleagues, has encouraged me to proceed confidently with my studies, especially Prof. S.S. Hangargi, Prof. S.B. Parvatikar, Sri. S.N. Kulkarni and Sri. S.A. Mundargi who lent a helping hand, in making this study, more meaningful. I am greatly indebted to all of them.

I thank Shri Sonar for helping me with the photographs,
Sri. Desai and Sri. M.D. Kumbar, who took the trouble of typing this volume neatly, and punctually.

I will be failing in my duty, if I do not express my deep sense of gratitude, to my husband, Dr. Rajiv for his constant encouragement and for going through the script and offering useful suggestions, to improve the language aspect of the thesis.
I am also sincerely thankful to my brother, Ashwin Bagde, who helped me in the preparation of computerised charts and added a new dimension to my work.

But for the sacrifice, love and prayers of my parents-in-law, parents, husband and children and all other family members, this research work, would not have seen the light of the day.
Words fail to express my heartfelt gratitude, to them. Indeed, I am forever indebted to them.
