ACKNOWLEDGE

I gratefully acknowledge my sincerest gratitude to my guide Dr. N.K. Kadetotad an accomplished scholar and an analytic critic who has guided me throughout my study and has presented me a wide prospect of field of unexplored knowledge. The affection that I bear for the subject has entirely been acquired from him only. Without his able guidance and encouragement this study would have not been possible. His studies on Religion, Magic and Societies have greatly influenced me to undertake this study. Therefore I am very much grateful to him forever.

The members of the staff of the Department of Anthropology and Research Scholars and Students have shown tremendous sympathy whenever I came to the department in connection with the study. So I thank them all in this regard. Dr. K.G. Gurumurthy the Chairman, of the Department of Anthropology, Karnataka University, Dharwad has given me a special attention to bring out this study. So I sincerely offer my thanks to him.

Dr. C.V. Yaravantelimath, Department of English, Karnataka University, Dharwad has gone through the manuscript within a short period of time. I am gratefully indebted to him for his correction in English language, which has given the vivid description of the facts and ideas. Because of his sustained help the work has been enriched. Therefore I am verymuch thankful to him.

I acknowledge my indebtedness to my Principal, B.C.Pujar who has co-operated and encouraged me throughout my study. If he had not provided me many opportunities in the college it would have not been possible to produce this work.

Similarly my colleagues like Prof.G.S.Hosmanl and others who have ungrudgingly helped me in completing this work. I offer my sincer thanks to all of them. The priests and devotees of Yamanur have spared their time and information regarding the study taken up by me. So I sincerely thank them for their co-operation and faithfullness.

I also express my thanks to my respondents and key informants who helped me while I was on tour to visit the different places in this State and out side the States.

I am glad to express my gratitude to the staff members of the Central Library, Karnatak University and Sri.B.S.Patil, Librarian, S.S.Arts,Science and Commerce College, Navalgun. Certainly my students who helped me in gathering material, information and such other jobs are truly praise worthy. Therefore I take an opportunity to thank them.

I am very much thankful to Shri. S.S. Kamalapur of Dharwar, who typed the material, and Shri. Ahetti Retd. Head Master, and owner of the Anand Photo Studio of Navalgund who helped me in collecting photographs of the study.

I also very much grateful to my Wife, Children, Mother and other members of my family who helped and co-operated me to produce this work.
