CONTENTS

Acknowledgement

List of tables, maps, figures and graphs

PART I

GENERAL AND THEORETICAL ANALYSIS

CHAPTER I: INTRODUCTION

Importance of the study - Objectives of the study - Research methodology - Scope of the study - Plan of the study - Meaning and definition - Role of cottage and small-scale industries - Appendix to Chapter I - (Chart and tables) 1 - 44

CHAPTER II: THEORETICAL EXPOSITION

Gandhists view - Socio-political considerations - Employment consideration - Economic considerations - Rate of turnover criterion - The social marginal productivity - Reinvestment criterion - Time series criterion - Common limitations and conclusions - Intermediate technology - Conclusions - Appendix to Chapter II (Tables) 45 - 97

PART II

PROCESSES - FACTORS PRICES - HISTORY AND COOPERATIVES

CHAPTER III: PROCESS, FACTORS AND FACTOR PRICES

Introduction - Processes - Twisting and warping factories - Sizing - Reading Pemm - winding - Weaving - Dyeing - Utilisation and supply of yarns - Fluctuations in prices - Short-run prices - Kinds of products - Varieties in Borders - Varieties in Heading - Employment pattern - Major Weavers' castes - Appendix to chapter III (Tables) 98 - 137
CHAPTER IV: GENERAL BACKGROUND OF THE HANDLOOM INDUSTRY

Developmental history of hand-weaving - Evolution of the industry - Periodic fluctuations in income - Employment - output - Products - Fluctuations of prices - organisation - and size of the industry - idle capacity 138 - 188

CHAPTER V: HANDLOOM COOPERATIVES IN BIJAPUR DISTRICT

General considerations - Findings - Reasons for failure of cooperative method in the district - national and state organisations - Conclusions and suggestions - Appendix to Chapter V - (Tables) 189 - 220

PART III
CASE STUDIES OF URBAN AND RURAL CENTRES

CHAPTER VI: CASE STUDY OF URBAN CENTRES - ILKAL

CHAPTER VII: CASE STUDY OF URBAN CENTRES
(CONTINUED) GUIEDCLM

CHAPTER VIII: CASE STUDY OF RURAL CENTRES
SULEBHAYI

CHAPTER IX: CASE STUDY OF RURAL CENTRES
(CONTINUED) NIDAHUNDI

Weavers' castes - No. of looms and establishments - Types of looms and equipment - Idle looms - Types of workers and organisation - Size of the establishments and industry - Types of yarns utilised - Proportion of men and women - Mode of acquisition and work-place - Capital investment - Output character - Production and cost - Supply of raw materials - Market - Employment character - Earnings - Family budgets - CHADACHAN - Weavers' communities - No. of establishments - Idle looms - Types of looms and equipment - Types of workers, organisation and size - No. of looms count-wise - Subsidiary occupation and extent of desertion - Proportion of men and women - Mode of acquisition and work-place - Capital investment - Output character - Production and supply of raw materials - Components of cost - Market - Employment character - Earnings - Family budgets

CHAPTER X: CASE STUDY OF COTTAGE POWERLOOMS

PART IV

COMPARATIVE STUDY, RESERVATION AND CONCLUSIONS

CHAPTER XI: COMPARATIVE STUDY OF HANDLOOM AND POWERLOOM INDUSTRIES IN BIJAPUR DISTRICT

General consideration - Looms and equipment - Communities - Nature of organisation - Size of establishments - Idle capacity - Capital cost - Structure of cost - Earnings - Distribution of costs - Supply of finance - Problem of indebtedness - raw materials - marketing
CHAPTER XII: PROBLEM OF RESERVATION

Retrospect - Textile Enquiry Committee views on reservation - Powerloom Enquiry Committee views on reservation - Shivaram Committee views on reservation - Effects on consumers - Handloom and powerlooms - Appendix to Chapter XII (KHD Corporation)

CHAPTER XIII: CONCLUSIONS AND POLICY SUGGESTIONS

Problem of marketing - Problem of old and traditional designs - Reorganising production side of the industry - Size of the handloom centres - size of units - weaving communities and weavers' efficiency - Tools and equipment - High cost of preliminary processes - Need for provision of cheap and adequate finance - supply of raw materials - Problem of management - Indebtedness and other qualities of weavers - Income and standard of living - Problem of organisation - Problem of reservation - Handloom development policy

BIBLIOGRAPHY