Acknowledgements

It is a pleasure to thank all the people who made this thesis possible.

I am especially grateful to my Ph.D. guide, Prof. Dr. Gulnar Sharma, for her constant encouragement and pushing me towards excellence. Without her, this thesis work would not have been possible.

I would also like to thank, Dr. Kalim Khan, Dr. J.K. Sachdeva and Dr. T.J. Mathew, for their invaluable comments and suggestions during the D.R.C presentations and discussion, which helped me make the necessary changes and corrections thereby bringing more clarity to the research work.

No words can describe my gratitude to my colleagues, Dr. Vidya Naik, Dr. Kachwala, Dr. Shweta Dixit, Dr. Chandrima Sikdar, Dr. Mala Srivastava, Dr. Umesh Kumar Bamel, Prof. Shailaja Rego and Prof. Arti Deo for their unstinted help, support and validation at various stages of the research work.

Without the support of My Vice Chancellor Dr. Rajan Saxena, My Pro Vice – Chancellor Dr. M.N. Welling and my Dean Dr. Debasis Sanyal who have encouraged me throughout and are eagerly waiting to see an addition in my achievement cap, this thesis work would not have been possible.

I would like to thank all my students, especially, Akash Mittal and Vikas Soni for helping me in organizing the ground work to the research project. Additionally, Nikita Ghadigaonkar, Janice Fernandes and Masseh Khatib, have been a great help during the typing of this thesis and data entry.

My colleagues who are also my friends, Dr. Vrinda Kamat and Meeta Shah have been there for me throughout my highs and lows and no words can describe my gratitude to them.
My husband, Sunil, has been of such immense help and pillar of support. My daughters, Malavika and Tabby has been so patient throughout the tenure of my research work, that they deserve extra special kisses and treats from me.

Lastly and most importantly, I wish to thank my parents, Smita and Umesh Kamat, who inculcated in me the logical approach and independence of thoughts, supported and encouraged me throughout. To them I dedicate this thesis.
