ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to thank the Almighty, and the Creator, my ALLAH, for his blessing and insight to complete my research study and also for my life.

There are several institutions and individuals without whose assistance I would not have been able to carry out this study and produce this thesis in its present form, and they all deserve my sincere thanks. I am deeply indebted to all those who have encouraged and helped me discuss ideas and gained insights, which have contributed in various ways to complete my study. I wish to convey my grateful thanks to the following in particular.

First of all, I would like to sincerely thank Dr. Munira Lokhandwala, my Research guide, Assistant Professor, Abeda Inamdar Senior College, for her immense support, critical comments, unfailing patience and creative guidance at every stage of this thesis. I deem it a privilege to have worked under her amiable guidance. Working with her has been a wonderful learning experience. She always motivated me, supported me, and cooperated with me in solving my day-to-day problems related to research. In spite of her very busy schedule, she always spared a lot of her precious time to guide me. I shall forever remember her as truly remarkable.

I express my sincere gratitude to Professor Dr. Ashok Thorat, Director, Institute of Advanced Studies in English, Pune, for his academic and constructive suggestions, his valuable help and moral support. He always encouraged me and helped me whenever I needed him.
I am very grateful and indebted to all who helped me in putting things together; it is difficult to find words to reveal the feelings to all my friends who supported me directly or indirectly during my stay in India. So I pray to Allah to reward them abundantly. Especially among them Dr. Nasr Ali Abdul Kawian and Dr. Saleh Ahmed Al Marfadi, the closest classmates from Yemen at Institute of Advanced Studies in English, who did not spare any efforts to help me and for their constant comments and suggestions in my research.

I would like to thank to my friend Ivelina Georgieva from Bulgaria who provided me some reference for the study and with whom I shared unforgettable memories here and many others who I cannot recall at the moment.

It would be difficult to express in words, my gratitude to my Government, which sent me to study for the concern, helped encouragement, and financial supported throughout my studies.

My grateful thanks are to the librarians of Pune University (Jayakar Library), the Education Department Library, the British Council Library, both at the English and Foreign Languages University (EFLU) Hyderabad, and Samarkand State Institute of Foreign Languages, Uzbekistan, and for their genuine and professional cooperation.

Last but not least, I would like to thank my parents and my brothers and sister, for their support and help. No words can express heartfelt gratitude and respect, which my parents deserve, and who have always been overwhelming me with their prayers. I always pray to Allah the Almighty to reward them the best and bestow His Mercy on them. Nothing of this would have been possible if it had not been for the love and support their patience and support have kept me going far and their love will keep me going further.

Finally yet importantly, my deepest appreciation and gratitude go to my beloved friend Mohammed Al Harazi who has always been with me with all his endurance; for his support and patience and without his help and encouragement I would not have carried out this strenuous work. I ask Allah to reward him the best.
