Acknowledgement

The present thesis is an attempt to contribute to the modern understanding of the spiritual society in sharana's literature enshrined in terms of Akkamahadevi's vachana.

I have completed work under the guidance of Dr. R.L. Ingalalli, Professor & Chairman, Dean Faculty of Social Science, Department of Philosophy, Karnatak University, Dharwad. I am immensely grateful to him for all the help and encouragement he has given me all through the thesis work. I owe to him the thought of doing Ph.D. in Akkamahadevi’s vacana’s in analytical perspective. He has heroically conducted me to my goal and from that early stage he has put up my short comings and deficiencies and helped me inside and outside the department day and night despite frequent inconveniences to himself and his important academic works. It is not an exaggeration to say that the work would not have been completed without his unusually strong interest and commitment.

I am also grateful to the Karnatak University authorities for having granted me scholarship for four and half years.

I should also express my thanks to the staff of the Karnatak University, Library for the help that I have received from them and also thankful to Sri. Basavaraj, Basava Computer centre and Sri Vinayak, Mahaganapati Computer Centre for immediate co-operative.

I am also thankful to teaching staff, Dr. M.T. Kamble, Dr. Melkar, Dr. Venkatesh, Dr. Ajit Prasad, Dr. Mathachan, Dr. Bavur, Dr. Pattanashetti, Dr. Monalisa G. Akkihal, Dr. (Smt.) Sannellappanavar, Dr. A. Dr. Qazi Medam, Dr. Hugar, Dr. T.T. Basanagoudar.
