ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take this opportunity to acknowledge my gratitude to Dr. G.B. Nandana, Reader Department of Political Science, Karnatak University, Dharwad, under whose guidance the study was taken up and completed. But for Dr. G.B. Nandana’s encouragement and guidance the completion of this study would not have been possible.

I am thankful to the Faculty Members of the Political Science Department for their guidance and valuable suggestions given from time to time. Retired professors of the Department, particularly, Dr. R.T. Jangam, Dr. N.A. Patil, Dr. S.H. Patil and Dr. K. Raghvendra Rao, have helped me from time to time with their advice and discussion and so have the present members, particularly, Dr. S.Y. Gubbannavara, Professor and Chairman and Dr. S.S. Patagundi and Dr. A.T. Kittur.

Some professors of the other Department too have helped me in pursuing this work. In particular, I must mention the name of Prof. V.G. Marihal, (Retired), Department of Education, Karnatak University, Dharwad, who provided additional information for my Research Work, my thanks are due to him.

I should place on record my gratitude to Dr. A.M. Pathan, Vice-Chancellor of the Karnatak University, and Dr. S. Rajashékhar, Registrar of the Karnatak University, for sanctioning me valuable financial assistance for this research work. In this connection, I must also acknowledge, with thanks, the appreciation shown by the SC and ST cell of the University of my needs and difficulties and extending accordingly the financial assistance from time to time.

The Karnatak University Librarian, Professor R.C. Patil (now retired) as well as the Assistant Librarian (Dr. S.C. Kendamath, now Librarian, in particular), have given me a good deal of cooperation and assistance and I must thank all of them. I thank the Record officer and other members of the Bombay Archives Department, Mumbai, who helped me in studying the old British Letters, for my research work. My thanks are also due to British Council Librarian, Hyderabad, for supplying News Items, for my research work.

Finally I thank Shri Tatyasaheb Desai and five others for giving me interviews. I also thank various other individuals and institutions who have given me their cooperation and assistance. I may be excused for not listing here all the names.
