ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It gives me great pleasure to submit my Ph. D. thesis entitled, 'GROWTH AND PROSPECTS OF TOURISM INDUSTRY IN NORTH KARNATAKA' to the Department of Post Graduate Studies in Commerce and Research, Karnataka University, Dharwad.

This is a tiny step in the endless journey in search of knowledge and truth. I must admit that, many things remain unexposed and untouched owing to my own limitations.

It was a lifetime privilege to work under the supervision of Dr. A. B. Kalkundrikar, Reader, Gogte College of Commerce, Belgaum. Right from conception of the project, he guided, enlightened and encouraged me with his deeply in sighted, vastly experienced and kind-hearted approach and advice. Words fail to express my indebtedness towards him for his invaluable guidance, encouragement and affection. I express deep sense of gratitude towards him.

My sincere thanks are due to Shri. Chiranjeevi Singh, Indian Ambassador to UNESCO, Paris, Dr. G. Ravindran, Additional Director General, Department of Tourism, Government of India, New Delhi; The Director and staff Department of Tourism, Government of Karnataka, Bangalore; Assistant Directors' offices at Hospet and Bijapur; Archaeological Survey of India, Bijapur, Hampi and Badami for their kind co-operation in collecting government statistics and other published materials.

My special thanks are due to M/s. Choudhari Bros. Belgaum, for prompt supply of stationary and smart binding work and to M/s. Asurkar Communications, Belgaum, for timely completion of photo-copying.

This work would not have taken its present form but for the artistic and aesthetic translation of my research ideas on computer screen, by my brotherly friend Mr. Shridhar Kulkarni. I owe a lot to him.

I cannot find words to express my feelings towards my brother Shri. Raghavendra Katoti, Sr. Economist, Tata Services Ltd., Mumbai, who has been with me at each stage of my work and contributed a lot by materials, ideas and suggestions.
