ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my deepest sense of gratitude to my research guide and mentor Dr. C.A. Somashekharappa, Department of Sociology, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for his guidance and supervision in every respect of the Thesis. The invaluable advice, kindness and patience with which he steered me through this endeavour have all helped me a great deal in completing the work well and well in time too. He has also taken extra pains and put in efforts towards the completion of my research work. To cut the long story short I can only say that all the finer things in this thesis are definitely his and shortcomings entirely mine. For the same and everything which he has done to me, I am ever grateful to him for all this and everything else through which he has shaped me as a researcher.

I am grateful to the Authorities of University Grants Commission for awarding Teacher Fellowship and thus enabling me to complete my work.
