B. In Regard to the Executive Authority of the Province

VII. Our Governor shall do all that in him lies to maintain standards of good administration; to encourage religious toleration, cooperation and good will among all classes and creeds; and to promote all measures making for moral, social and economic welfare, and tending to fit all classes of the population to take their due share in the public life and government of the province.

VIII. In making appointments to his council of ministers our Governor-General shall use his best endeavors to select his ministers in the following manner, that is to say, in consultation with the person who, in his judgment, is most likely to command a stable majority in the Legislature, those persons (including so far as practicable members of important minority communities) who will best be in a position collectively to command the confidence of the Legislature. But, in so acting, he shall bear constantly in mind the need for fostering a sense of joint responsibility among his Ministers.

IX. In all matters within the scope of the executive authority of the province, save in relation to functions which he is required by the said Act to exercise in his discretion, our Governor shall in the exercise of the powers conferred upon him be guided by the advice of his ministers, unless in his opinion so to be guided would be inconsistent with the fulfillment of any of the special responsibilities which are by the said Act committed to him, or with the proper discharge of any of the functions which he is otherwise by the said Act required to exercise on his individual judgment; in any of which cases our Governor shall, not with standing his ministers advice, act in exercise of the powers by the said act conferred upon him in such manner as to his individual judgment seems requisite for the due discharge of the responsibilities and functions aforesaid. But he shall be studious so to exercise his powers as not to enable his ministers to rely upon his special responsibilities in order to relieve themselves of responsibilities which are properly their own.
