Acknowledgments

I bow before “Almighty” who blessed me with peace of mind and courage to accomplish this humble piece of work.

As I sit back and write this little piece, I think of innumerable hands that steered me through this journey and put me on the right path of learning. The whole work represented in this thesis, is the result of continuous learning, sincere effort, dedication and determination to achieve laid objectives. During my entire work I was helped by a number of people. I would like to thank those people; for making this journey easier in various ways and have contributed towards the completion of this endeavour.

It is my fortune and I am very thankful to my supervisor and Director, Indian Institute of Integrative Medicine, Dr. Ram Vishwakarma, (IIIM)-CSIR for providing me an opportunity to pursue my research work in this esteemed institution, for his guidance, supervision, and constant encouragement, valuable advices and the freedom of work he provided all throughout my research work.

With deep sense, veneration and obligation from the core of my heart, I consider it as a great and proud privilege to ascribe my success in this venture to my Advisor, my mentor Dr. Surinder Kumar Lattoo, who by his noble and humble advice, attentive guidance and keen interest, nourished my interest in the subject, thereby providing me a free and pleasant atmosphere to work against all odd situations. Without his support, inspiring guidance, constructive and creative criticisms, deep involvement and prolific encouragement, my thesis could not have seen the light of the day. I fall short of words to express the greatness of my esteemed advisor.

I also wish to thank Dr. P.K. Pati, Dr. Prabhjeet Singh and Dr. Gurcharan Kaur, Deptt. Of Biotechnology, GNDU, Amritsar, for the kind help extended during enrolment and registration to the Ph.D.

I would also like to thank Prof. A. K. Thukral, GNDU, Amritsar, for his dedicated and tireless teaching during my PhD coursework.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Dr. Nasheeman Ashraf, for treating me as a younger brother, for her love and care, for her sympathetic approach, encouragement and valuable suggestions regarding my thesis work.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Rekha Sapru Dhar and Mrs. Shabnum Khan for their guidance and constant encouragement all throughout my research work.

I am grateful to Dr. Amita Bhattacharya, Dr. Paramvir Singh Ahuja, Dr. Sanjay Kumar, Dr. Awadesh Pal, CSIR-IHBT, Palampur for providing the Agrobacterium strains and vectors. I am also highly thankful to Prof. Daniele Werck Reichhart University of Strasbourg, France for WAT11 yeast strain, to Dr. Marc. Fischer, INRA, France for yeast strains, to Martine DeJonge, Ghent University, Belgium and Dr. Joerg Bohlman, University of British Columbia, Canada for yeast episomal vectors.
I am grateful to Council of Scientific and Industrial research (CSIR) for providing me financial assistance in the form of Project fellowship under NWP-008 Network Project and in the form of Senior Research Fellowship and.

I am also grateful to DST (Department of Science and Technology) for providing me full financial assistance for my presenting my work at the 4th European Molecular Biology Organization Meeting, 2012, Nice, France.

I am thankful to India Bioscience, Bangalore for providing me an opportunity to present my work in EMBO-Young Students Networking Meeting, 2013, Bangalore, India.

I am highly thankful to Dr. Parvaiz Qazi, IIIM-Srinagar, for help with the collection of Picrorhiza kurroa and for that wonderful expedition to the serene and breath-taking Kashmir Himalayas.

I am indebted to Dr. R. K. Khajuria, IIIM-Jammu for his help in HPLC and GC-MS analysis. It is with immense sadness that he did not live to see my PhD dissertation. May GOD rest his soul in peace! My thanks are also due to Mr. Prabhu Dutt for facilitating chemoprofiling of Picrorhiza samples. I am also indebted to Dr. Amit Nargotra for help with the docking analysis and molecular modeling. I am also grateful to whole of IIIM-Jammu staff for always being nice and courteous.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my teachers Prof. Khurshid I. Andrabi, Dr. Bilal Ahmad Reshi, Prof. Khalid Majid Fazili, Dr. Firdous Ahmad Khandey, Dr. Ehtishamul Haq and Dr. Mehboob-UL-Hussain, who contributed significantly to my academic and professional education prior to joining IIIM. Bilal sir always wanted me to be at the top and his faith helped me strive harder in order to achieve my goal.

I am very much grateful to Dr. Fayaz Malik and Dr. Riyaz Andrabi, for their help, valuable suggestions and constant encouragement.

It's my pleasure to offer my thanks to all my colleagues, including Shishupaul, Sumeer, Satiander, Niha, Shahzad, Tariq, Abid, Shoaib and other project trainees for maintaining a pleasant working atmosphere, for their great forbearance, cooperation and boundless affection during the course of my investigation. Satiander, Sumeer, Niha, Shahzad and Tariq, I am grateful to all of you for going through all my idiosyncrasies with a smile and special thanks for your friendship, support and all the fond memories. I will miss you...

I am also grateful to my lab staff, Deepu and Regzin for their help and support in day to day lab activities.

I will always be indebted to my friends Rayees, Imran, Javeed, Mujahid, Tariq, Azhar, Haseeb for always being there to listen to my disappointments and dilemmas and always guiding me to choose the right path. Love you guys...

Archana, a gem of a person, deserves a special mention as she has always been very caring, helping and understanding. I thank her for her inspiration and unending encouragement during my research.

I have no words to express my heartfelt gratitude to my beloved and wonderful parents, who dedicated their entire life for my success and are the tower of strength and source of inspiration for me. They always supported and encouraged me and in the moments of despair, they came forth to kindle a ray of hope which rejuvenated me to work with renewed zeal, so I can't forget to recollect the kind of support which they have been provided throughout my educational career. I LOVE YOU….

I would like to dedicate this thesis to the memory of my mom (1965-2013), who is a constant source of inspiration. I hope she would have been proud. Miss you…

I record my profound thanks to my dearest sister and brother for their prayers and best wishes.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to my beloved Uncles and Aunts, to my cousins for their unconditional love and blessings.

Last but not least; I thank everyone who is related in any way directly or indirectly helped me during the phase of work towards my thesis.

Again, I thank “Almighty” for his blessings bestowed upon me.
