ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I consider myself very fortunate to have had the privilege of working under the able guidance of Dr. T.K. Meti, Former Professor of Economics and Chairman, Department of Studies in Economics, Karnataka University, Dharwad. It is with great pleasure that I express my deep sense of gratitude to him for his valuable guidance and stimulating discussion throughout the course of my research study.

I am extremely thankful to Prof. S.G. Gambhir, Prof. V.L. Inamdar, and my other colleagues in the Department of Studies in Economics, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for their valuable discussion.

I gratefully acknowledge the facilities made available to me by the authorities of the Karnataka University, Dharwad, to carry out my research study. I cannot help expressing my gratitude to the authorities of the Karnataka Central Cooperative Bank Ltd., Dharwad, for permitting me to make use of the office records and the fruitful discussion. I certainly owe a debt of gratitude to the farmers and the secretaries of the PACS of the Navalagund Taluka, who readily responded to the questionnaires. I also thank Prof. C.M. Kotturushetty, Department of Commerce, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for his encouragement.

Finally, my sincere thanks are also due to Shri. Subhas Kammar for typing my thesis neatly and in time.
