ACKNOWLEDGMENT

THIS thesis is an attempt at an enquiry, interpretation and evaluation of the concept of God in the philosophy of Tontada Siddhalingesvara (TS for short) from the background of the contemporary western philosophers. There is not a single work of this type and I have tried my mite to interpret and present a coherent account of the concept of God based on TS’s text which plays a vital role in the Vīraśaiva philosophy. I have completed this work under his guidance of Dr.N.G.Mahadevappa, Professor of Philosophy (rtd), Karnataka University, Dharwad. I am immensely grateful to him for the valuable guidance and help in the form of constructive suggestions given to me in the preparation of this thesis. He has helped me inside and outside the Department, night and day, despite severe inconveniences to himself and sometimes even at the cost of his own important academic work.

I am also grateful to Dr.L.C.Mullatti, Professor of Philosophy (rtd), Karnataka University, Dharwad, for his intellectual help and suggestions at the crucial moments.

I am grateful to the various authorities of Karnataka University for having given me an opportunity to undertake and complete this work. I should be failing in my duty if I do not acknowledge my appreciation of the help rendered by other members of the Department of Philosophy and the staff of the Karnataka University Library.

I am also grateful to His Holiness Sri Yogeshvara Swamiji for providing facilities during my stay at Dharwad and also for his blessings and keen interest in my work.

I record my gratitude to the authorities of South Konkan Education Society, Belgaum, my employers, for encouraging me in completing this research work. Lastly, I am thankful to my R.P.D. College colleagues for their help and co-operation and the Chaitanya Data Processing, Dharwad, for preparing this thesis neatly on their computer.
