Acknowledgements

Carrying out this research work was a constant struggle and challenge, and I cannot forget the many people who've played significant roles in adding value to this research.

I would first like to thank, Dr. V. N Nayak, Reader in Ocean Sciences, who has been my guide from M. Sc. days. It has been an enriching experience working under his guidance for the last seven years. Many of his actions were inspiring, and particularly when he personally accompanied me in carrying out the first sea turtle survey in Karwar. I am very grateful for his valuable guidance, constructive criticism, support and interest in every stage of my research work.

I sincerely thank the Vice Chancellor of Karnataka University for his cooperation in allowing me to carry out research in this great Institution. My thanks and appreciation is also due to the Registrar of Karnataka University for his permission and courtesies extended during my research work.

At the department of Studies in Marine Biology, Karwar, I am thankful to Dr. U. G. Bhat, Chairman of the Department, Dr. Kusuma Neelakatan, Dr. J. L Rathod and Dr. U. G Nayak for their cooperation and support during my research period.

The office staff and non teaching staff at the department have been very kind and cooperative during my research period and other times. I am very thankful to them for all the help they have given me.

Many more people have contributed towards this research work which I am deeply grateful for:

Funding and support:

Funds to support the research were received from the Karnataka University by way of scholarship, Dr Wesley Sunderraj at Gujarat Institute of Desert Ecology who supported and sponsored my Sea turtle survey in Gujarat. The forest departments of Karantaka, Maharashtra, Orissa, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Andaman and Nicobar islands and Lakshwadeep islands, have supported my work indirectly, by the issue of permits, arrangement of boarding and lodging free of cost, providing field assistantship and many a times doing more help than expected. From these departments, I would like to acknowledge:
Mr. Anup Kumar Nayak, CCF Orissa, Mr. Majumdar, CCF Maharashtra, Mr. Khaire, DFO Maharashtra, Mr. Shubendu, DFO West Bengal, Ms Priya, DFO Srikakulam, Andhra Pradesh, Mr. Prabhakar Nayak Andaman and Nicobar islands, DFO, A.R. Strangers for help and hospitality:

These are an amazing lot of people I met during my surveys, mostly villagers, who extended their help and hospitality without being approached. And there are those innumerable people who guided my travel and survey when stopped and asked for addresses.

Last but not the least, I thank my parents, Mr. Kurian George and Mrs. Aleyamma Mathews for their constant help and support through all their hardships. It is their selfless prayers and the grace of God that has helped me through my journeys. I am indebted to them for everything I have today. I also thank my brother, George Kurian for all the moral support and understanding shown in easing my parents anxieties when I was on field surveys.
