ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my deep sense of gratitude to my revered teacher late Dr. K.R. Mallikarjunappa, Department of Post Graduate Studies and Research in Commerce, Karnataka University, Dharwad, who was the source of inspiration to conceive the idea of doing this study and for his unbounded affection.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. S.S. Hugar, Reader in Commerce, Department of Post Graduate Studies and Research in Commerce, Karnataka University, Dharwad, whose constructive guidance, encouragement and continuous patience were instrumental in making this study possible. I must say that without his inspired co-operation my work would not have seen light of the day.

I am very much thankful to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi; for having granted me the Teacher Fellowship under the Faculty Improvement Programme to complete the present study. Similarly, I express my sincere thanks to the Indian Council of Social Science Research, New Delhi; for extending Study Grants to visit several institutions at Ahmedabad and Bombay.
My thanks are also due to the members of the staff of the libraries of Karnataka University, Dharwad; Bombay University, Bombay; Gujarat University, Ahmedabad; Andhra University, Visakhapatnam; Bankers Training College, RBI, Bombay; Sardar Patel Institute of Economic and Social Research, Ahmedabad; The Asiatic Society of Bombay; Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Bombay; Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad; Reserve Bank of India, Bombay; and G.I. Bagewadi College, Nipani for their sympathetic attitude and guidance.

I place on record my sincere thanks to Shri. P.R. Upadhya, General Manager, Bijapur Gramaena Bank, Bijapur; Shri. S.S. Patel, Manager (Development), Bijapur Gramaena Bank, Bijapur; and Shri. R.H. Kittur, Lead District Manager, Syndicate Bank, Divisional Office, Bijapur for providing me with necessary information and valuable suggestions.

I sincerely thank the Board of Management, K.I.E. Society, Belgaum; for permitting me to undertake this study. So also Shri. Prabhakar Kore, M.P., Prin. S.B. Patil, Prin. B.S. Akke, and Prof. S.R. Gundakalle deserve my heart-felt thanks for their varied help in completing this study.
My thanks are also due to my teachers in the Department, Dr. B.M. Wali, Dr. K.S. Daniel and Prof. C.M. Kotturshettar for their co-operation and encouragement during the course of completing this work. Similarly, Shri R.L. Hyderabad deserves my special thanks for his encouragement.

My heart-felt gratitude is also due to my parents, whose blessings and aspirations helped me to complete this work. Finally, the tolerant attitude of my wife Mrs. S.S. Hundekar and my both sons deserve my deep love and appreciation.

Dharwad,
April 11, 1992.
