ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I am ever grateful to my guide Dr. N. B. Havalappanavar, Professor of Psychology, Karnataka University, Dharwad; who encouraged and enlightened me throughout the course of this research work.

I am grateful to Dr. S. N. Hegde, J. S. S. College, Dharwad, for his guidance in statistical analysis; and to Shri R. M. Girji, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for his valuable suggestions.

I am very much indebted to Karnataka University, Dharwad.

I sincerely express my gratitude to Karnataka Institute of Mental Health, Dharwad; to the previous Superintendent Dr. Karur and to the present Superintendent Dr. Poll who gave me permission and encouraged me; and to all my colleagues for their timely help. I am very much grateful to all those mentally retarded individuals and their parents who cooperated in the present research work.

I am grateful to the libraries of Karnataka University; Mysore University; NIMHANS, Bangalore; and NIMH, Secunderabad.

At the end, I express my thanks to my wife Padma, daughters Vani and Rashmi, who tolerated me and cooperated with me throughout the present research work.
