ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to my respected research guide Dr. S. S. Hugar, Professor, Department of Commerce, Karnataka University Dharwad, a man of profound wisdom and experience. Words cannot be adequate to express one's gratitude to one's teacher. Yet I would like to express my heart-felt gratitude to my guide. I thank from the very core of my heart for his scholarly guidance, continuous academic stimulation, and whole hearted encouragement and support throughout the period of research work.

The present work has also been made possible through the co-operation, assistance and encouragement of many individuals to whom, I wish to express my gratitude.

I am grateful to the Department of Commerce of Post-Graduate Studies and Research in Commerce, Karnataka University, Dharwad for giving me an opportunity to pursue the Ph. D programme. I thank Dr. S.G. Hundekar, Professor & Chairman, Department of Commerce, Dr. H. Y. Kamble the Dean, Dr. R. L. Hyderabad, Professor and Dr. A. N. Thamragundl for their support and encouragement.

I extend my special thanks to Dr. S. A. Siddanti, Director, Regional Institute of Co-operative Management, Bangalore for his sustained encouragement. It was through him that I managed to get some important reports, data, journals and reference books at each stage of my work. I have, indeed, no words to express my gratitude to him.

I offer my profound regards to my beloved teacher Dr. S. N. Hanchinmani, Retired Principal, C.S.I. College of Commerce, Dharwad for his constant encouragement and support throughout the study period.

I take this unique space to thank my friends, Sri. Rajendra D. Patil & Maasum A. K. Pathan for their continued support and encouragement and were constant sources of inspiration at every stage of completion of this thesis.
My thanks are also due to the kind co-operation of the officials of Syndicate Bank at Manipal, Bangalore and Dharwad for the quick response and guidance given by them.

I am highly indebted and grateful to my revered parents, namely, my beloved father Prof. C. M. Kotturshettar, Retired Professor & Chairman, P.G. Department of studies in Commerce and also Former Dean Faculty of Commerce, Karnatak University, Dharwad and my beloved mother Smt. Jayadevi, and my grandmother Smt. Godhamma S. Gadag for their continuous and perennial source of stimulation, encouragement and blessings for not only undertaking this work but also during the course of its timely completion. Further, I am also grateful to my eldest brother Sri. Mahantesh, Advocate, High Court and his wife Smt. Vidyavathi, Government Advocate, High Court Circuit Bench, Dharwad; my second elder brother Sri. Manjunath and his wife Smt. Sharada for their support and encouragement. I fail in my duty if I don't keep a few words of gratitude to my uncles, Sri. K. S. Kalyani of Belgaum, Late Sri. Veerappa, Sri. Chandrashekhar, Dr. D.M. Kotturshettar, Retired Principal, P.C. Jabin Science College, Hubli and Sri. Panchakshari, and also to my aunts, Smt. Parvathi, Smt. Ratna, Smt. Mukta, Smt. Parvathi and to the whole band of all my elder and younger cousin brothers and sisters of my family for their continuous encouragement. Further, I would like to keep on record the sweet timings that I had with kids at home, Master Ristikesh, Kumari Chaitanya, Kumari Soujanya, and Kumari Yashasvini. Lastly, I feel rather than express in words the continuous co-operation extended, encouragement manifested, several sacrifices and timely help made by my wife Smt. Lakshmi in completing this present work.

Finally, I express my deepest gratitude to all those who have directly or indirectly helped in the completion of the present study successfully.
