ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I extend my heartfelt thanks to Prof. C. G. Hussain Khan, my Guru for his guidance throughout the period of research. If not for his patience, his thirst for perfection and his faith in me, I would not have been able to do my fieldwork or complete my research. It was the courage he gave me that helped me to overcome the initial trauma and dilemma of fieldwork. I thank him sincerely for having faith in me in taking up this enormous endeavor of research.

Words are inadequate for me to extend my gratitude to Kunabi for their co-operation. Without their acceptance of my interfering presence, my research would not have been possible. I cannot thank them enough for making me a part of their family and for helping me learn their ways. The stay has been a tremendous experience of learning, about Kunabi and also about life. I thank Ramani Kunabi, Ananta Kunabi, Rajanna and Vanita for providing me home away from home during my fieldwork. I also thank Shri. Gajanan Gaonkar and Shri. Pramod Hegde for introducing me to Kunabi. I thank Parvati, Shantu, Putta, Vallu, Narayana and many others who helped me learn a million things about Kunabi.

I extend my thanks to my teachers Dr. K. G. Gurumurthy, Prof. P. B. Gai, Dr. S. V. Hittalmani, Shri. R. M. Girji, Dr. K. C. Tarachand, Dr. P. P. Pavate, Dr. T. T. Basavangouda and also the non-teaching staff of Department of Anthropology, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for the co-operation and encouragement they have extended. I would like to extend special thanks to Dr. Hemanth Apte (Ethnovision, Pune), Shri. Raman (College of Forestry, Sirsi), Dr. D. M. Naik (Dept. of Anthropology, KUD).

I extend my warmest of thanks to all my friends and well-wishers who have helped me directly and indirectly. Thank you so much Veda for everything. Thank you Pushkarni, Dr. Laxmi, Rajashri, Rajesh (whose letters gave me strength during the fieldwork), Lucinda, Sadanand, Sreedhar, Punds, Vinay, Channakki, Prashant Chikkerur, Shivu Kadappanavar and Ajay (who says he prayed for me!). And of course thanks to Manju who kept me going with his unlimited supply of black coffee while writing the thesis!

I thank Lord Krishna for giving me strength and courage every step of the way. I thank my parents for being there for me, and for bearing with me. An extra thanks to Akka who accompanied me on my initial field explorations and also for that over-night stay and also for Chinnu for making me smile, even in all that stress, a special thanks also to Badri (for papers!). And THANK YOU Sada for everything! for teaching me to have faith in my abilities and being with me through high and lows.
