Table of Contents

Abstract

Chapter one: Introduction

1. Booker prize:
2. Preliminaries
3. Statement of the Problem
4. Hypothesis
5. Aims and Objectives
6. Methodology and Technique
7. Data Collection
8. Data Analysis
9. Scope and limitations
10. Significance of the study

Conclusion
Chapter two: Brief Survey of Indian Novels in English

1. Thumbnail sketch of Indo-Anglian fiction

2. Woman Novelists

3. Appreciation of Indo-Anglian Fiction

4. Sahitya Akademi Award winning novels

Chapter three: Critical Study of Suzanna Arundhati Roy with a Special Emphasis on The God of Small Things

1.1 Plot and Story

1.2 Characters

1.3 The themes

1.4 Point of View

1.5 Narrative Technique

1.6 Setting and Structure

1.7 Language of the novel

Suzanna Arundhati Roy

Other works by Arundhati Roy

Conclusion
Chapter four: Critical Study of Kiran Desai with Special Emphasis on The Inheritance of Loss

1.1 Plot and Story

1.2 Characters

1.3 The themes

1.4 Point of View

1.5 Narrative Technique

1.6 Setting and Structure

1.7 Language of the novel

Kiran Desai

Other works by Kiran Desai

Conclusion

Chapter five: A Critical Study of Aravind Adiga with the Special Emphasis on The White Tiger

1.1 Plot and Story

1.2 Characters

1.3 The themes

1.4 Point of View
1.5 Narrative Technique

1.6 Setting and Structure

1.7 Language of the novel

Aravind Adiga

Other works by Aravind Adiga

Conclusion

Chapter six: Conclusion

1. The progress of Indian writing in English

2. The three Booker prize winning novelists are worth critical study

3. The three novels have a close link with the changing world in view of globalization

4. The three novelists have large acceptance in the literary world of today

5. Indian literature in English has now crossed Indian boundaries and needs to be studied with a new perspective

6. Final notes about the 3 novels and novelists

Bibliography