ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Being a student of Dr. Muralidhara has been the most enriching experience of my academic life. He is the most inspiring teacher I ever came across post my school days. I learnt from him the indispensable roles of passion, rigour and honesty in doing good scientific research. It was his view expressed in numerous discussions in the lab that helped me to appreciate the relevance of NeuroToxicology. I thank him for introducing me to the wonderland of flies and animals, also the academic freedom that he provided throughout my doctoral research.

I am great full to the funding agencies, cell fellowship-University of Mysore and UGC-RGNF for awarding the JRF/ SRF fellowship for my research work.

I thank Prof. Ram Rajasekharan, Director, CSIR-CFTRI, Mysore and former directors Dr. Prakash V and Dr. Venkateshwara Rao G for their support to carry out the research work at the institute.

I thank the present Head of the Department Dr. A Naidu, Former HOD’s, Dr. Muralidhara, Dr. K. Srinivasan and Dr. P. Salimath of B&N Department, for their support and encouragement throughout my stay at the department.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Rajini PS, Senior Principal Scientist, Head of the Department of FPIC for her kind help, support and encouragement during my Doctoral programme.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Biochemistry Dept. staff of CSIR-CFTRI and University of Mysore, viz., Dr. G Muralikrishna G, Dr. YP Venkatesh, Dr. Shylaja Dharmesh, Dr. UJS Prasad Rao, Dr. V Baskaran, Dr. S Muthukumar, Dr. Kalpana Plate, Dr. C.D Nandini, Sri. Masimbeg Mulla and family, Hubli Puppa and family, Inamhongal puppa and family who constantly inspired, educated, guided and moulded me into the present position and whose constant fountain of love and encouragement brings out of my best all my endeavors. Without their blessings this thesis would never have seen the light of the day.

I am also very thankful to M/s Himalayan drugs Pvt. Ltd, Bengaluru for their sample gift of Withania somnifera extract, which is heart of my thesis.

Finally, happiness lies in pursuit as much as in reaching the good and today I stand with the kernel of my endeavor. While pursuing it, many a known and unknown hands pushed me forward; learned souls put me on the right path with their knowledge and experience. I shall ever remain thankfully indebted to them all. Above all I bow my knees in front my Lord and Savior JESUS CHRIST for giving me the knowledge to solve all my research problems, his love and care strengthen me, in the up and downs of my research life. Indeed there could be no adequate words with me to express my thanks and feelings towards his endless love. At last, my sincere apologies to those whom i have failed to mention in this thesis.
