ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The writing up of a doctoral thesis is meant to be a penultimate act in recognising a person’s capacity to carry out independent research. Of course, putting this entire act together would not have been possible alone, though I may have faced numerous challenges and spent many days in addressing them before coming to this stage. However, I am fully to blame for any incorrectness that may have crept in. Yet, I could not have arrived here without the help and support of many individuals, and many, many others. Therefore, I would like to express my gratitude to all of them who have contributed in some way or the other towards this thesis.

My aspiration for pursuing doctoral research was made possible by Prof. M.R. Gangadhar, Research Guide, Department of Studies in Anthropology, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysuru. His initiative in introducing me to the World of Biological Anthropology in context with Human Evolution, Population Genetics will always be remembered. I wish to place on record my sincere gratitude to my research guide Prof. M.R. Gangadhar for his valuable guidance and encouragement throughout the doctoral journey.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Prof. M. Annapurna, Chairperson, Department of Studies in Anthropology, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysuru for providing necessary facilities and co-operation during my research work.

I am grateful to Prof. N. Ningaiah and Prof. K. Rajasekhara Reddy, Department of Studies in Anthropology, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysuru for the support and encouragement during the research period. It is my pleasure to recognise and be grateful to the support provided by them.

I express my heartfelt thanks to retired faculty members Prof. H.K. Bhat, Dr. H.M. Ganesh and Dr. B.M. Srinivas, Department of Studies in Anthropology, University of Mysore.
Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysuru for their valuable suggestions and support during my research work.

I record my sincere thanks to the Prof. B. Vishwanath, Chairman, Department of Biochemistry, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysuru for the permission for providing laboratory facilities at the Department of Biochemistry.

I am extremely grateful and words are inadequate to convey the gratitude to Dr. K.S. Girish, Associate Professor, Department of Biochemistry, Tumakur University, Tumakur for critical review of my hypothesis, sparing his time to improving the quality of the thesis and valuable suggestions to carried out wet laboratory work at the Department of Biochemistry, University of Mysore, Manasagangotri, Mysuru.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Geetha Avadhani, Dean and Director, Mysore Medical College and Research Institute, Dr. B.G. Sagar, Medical Superintendent, Krishna Rajendra Hospital, Mysuru for permitting me to collect the data and blood samples of the study participants.

I would like to express my thankful appreciation to the following Orthopaedic doctors/surgeons for their kind co-operation and support during the field research in Krishna Rajendra Hospital at Mysuru and for helping me to access data resources: Dr. Kiran Kallaiah, Dr. Kaladagi, Dr. B.G.
