A) Primary Sources:

University of Michigan Press. (ed.) Bran Nicol.

___________. “Force of Law,” (trans.) Mary Quaintance, in Deconstruction and The Possibility of Justice, (eds.) Drucilla Cornell, Michael Rosenfeld, and David Gray

__________. Politics of Friendship. (trans.) George Collins,

B] Secondary Sources:

Aristotle Poetics, rept in The Norton Anthology of Theory and Criticism, ed. V. B. Leitch, New York: W. W. Norton and Co

Cornell, Drucilla; Rosenfeld, Michael; and Carlson, David Gray. (eds.) Deconstruction and the Possibility of Justice, New York: Routledge, 1992.

F.W. Bateson, English Poetry and the English Language, OUP, Oxford, Perspectives in Social Theory. 1985.

Robertson, Roland. ‘Mapping the Global Condition: Globalization as the

Schrift, Alan. *Twentieth Century French Philosophy: Key Themes and

C] Webliography:
http://www.gseis.ucla.edu/faculty/kellner/kellner.html.
http://www.iep.utm.edu/l/Lyotard.htm