ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my sincere gratitude to my research guide and Guru Dr. R. B. Chougule, Assistant Professor and Head, Department of English, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University Sub-campus, Osmanabad, for his valuable guidance, inspiration, constant encouragement and intellectual and decent support during the course of my research work.

Words would be hardly adequate to express my thanks and gratitude to Prof. Satish Deshpande for advice on the early stages of this study. I am also thankful to Dr. Mabel Fernandes, Dr. Kashinath Ranveer, Head Dept. of English and all faculty members of Dept. of English for their kind support. I take this opportunity to express my thanks to Dr. Geeta Patil, Dr. Uttam Ambhore, Dr. Mustjeeb Khan, Dr. Mehurnisa Pathan, Dr. Anand Ubale and other teaching and non-teaching staff for their valuable help and motivation in fulfilling this assignment.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr G. D. Kokane for suggestion and helpful comments and constructive criticism. I am also appreciative to Dr Manoj Zade for encouragement towards the success and completion of the research work. Thanks are also for a debt of gratitude is owed to Dept of English for supporting information on avant-garde modernist and postmodern theories practices and for arranging private viewings of some of the more inaccessible examples through national seminar on Cultural Studies.

I am grateful to my husband Advocate Sharad Patil whose moral encouragement and economic support is precious for completion of this work. I also express my thanks to my elder brothers Shri Keshav, Mahadev and Pandit Jadhav and Deepak Patil. I am also thankful to my great and lovely brother Namdev for his economical support and encouragement in completing this work and Gopal Jadhav for his consistent efforts for providing me research material and very immense part for completing this work. I am thankful to my mother-in-law Sau Laxmi and father-in-law Shri Bhagwan Patil whose support for the completion of this work is worth noting.

I would like to offer sincere thanks to my parents, to many friends for their continued support in the writing of this work and, particularly, to my parents to whom this is dedicated. Last but not least, I express my heartfelt gratitude to the countless people who have supported and blessed me in various ways in completing the research study. I am very thankful to all Saints and Sages, and finally Almighty God for all the plentiful blessings and loving care which enabled me to submit this thesis within a period of time.I am very much thankful to my lovely daughter Rajnandini (Swara) for having patience and moral support.

Ms JADHAV RUKMINI BHIMRAO