ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the first I must thank to my guide, Dr. V.B. Bhise, Reader, Department of Economics, Marathwada University, Aurangabad, who encouraged me by his able guidance to complete this work. It was his keen interest, sincer help and precious guidance that helped me to complete the present work half years.

I do express my sincere sense of gratitudes to Dr. G.S. Kalyankar, Professor and Ex-Head, Department of Economics, Marathwada University, Aurangabad, for extending help, co-operation and encouragement to me. I am also thankful to Dr. R.P. Kurulkar, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Marathwada University, Aurangabad, for extending the necessary help to me.

I must also acknowledge my debt to Dr. H. Keshawarz and Dr. Sharam Ghambari, two of prominent figures of the subject whose guidlines were of great benefit to me. I should also thank them for providing all the materials available in their library.

Dr. Ali Rahnema is another friend through whom I was able to use library facilites of American University in Paris-France.

I am also very much thankful to Miss. Azita Dadfar, who has spent lots of time to help me in different fields such as typing, corrections and etc.

This is just a greatful thanks to a number of friends through which this work has been completed today.

I am thankful to my family, specially to my youngest brother, who provided me financial support during this study period.

I am thankful to Mr. Ram Joshi, Digisoft Computers, Aurangabad by appreciating his efforts regarding wordprocessing within a short period of time.

Lastly, I thank all of them who have directly and indirectly helped me in completing the present study.
