Acknowledgements

First, with boundless gratitude, I would like to acknowledge and express my appreciation to my research guide, Dr. R. Jagadeesh, for his continual dedication, professional expertise, and exceptional guidance. My sincere thanks go to him for his patience, timely feedback, and mentoring. I am deeply grateful to him for making this a wonderful, challenging, and stimulating learning experience. I feel privileged to have been his student and advisee.

I would also like to thank Dr. T. R. Seetharam, the then principal of our institute, The National Institute of Engineering, Mysore and Dr. S. Sreenivasamurthy, the then Head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering. They encouraged me to register for Ph.D. studies at the University of Mysore.

Special thanks to the Management Committee members of our institute, Dr. M. S. Shivakumar, our Principal and Dr. T. Jayaraju, Head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering for the constant moral support they gave during the research tenure.

A chunk of my literature survey was assimilated from the Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore and thanks to Smt. Neela, Assistant Librarian who helped me to a very great extent in this attempt.

Thanks to all my close colleagues who were very supportive and who prayed for the completion of my research work by sharing their experiences, listening and providing sound advice.

Additional thanks to Smt. R. Anuradha, my associate in the Training and Placement department, who helped me in typing this thesis.

I am forever indebted to my father, mother, my wife and my children for the everlasting love, compassion, understanding and support they gave throughout the research work.
