I convey my sincere gratefulness to my mentor and supervisor, Professor Samir Kumar Mukherjee, Department of Microbiology, University of Kalyani, for his valued supervision, persistent support and fruitful criticism throughout my research work. He has truly been a great source of inspiration, insight, input and caring gesture. The knowledge he has imparted and patience he has displayed were vital for completing this work.

I owe a depth of gratitude and sincere thanks to Dr Keka Sarkar and Dr. Ekramul Islam, Department of Microbiology, University of Kalyani, for their valuable support, and encouragement during the course of executing the research work.

I am also grateful to the Director of All India Institute of Medical Sciences and Head of the Department, Department of Anatomy for their permission for availing the TEM facility in Electron Microscope Facility Centre, (SAIF, New Delhi).

I am also grateful to the Director, National Institute of Cholera and Enteric Diseases, Kolkata, West Bengal, for availing the TEM facility in Electron Microscope Facility Centre), NICED, Kolkata.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to the Electron Microscopic Unit, Bose Institute, Kolkata for rendering EM facility for scanning electron microscopic (SEM) studies of tumour samples.

I would like to acknowledge the Secretary, Department of Animal Resources Development, Government of West Bengal, and also to the Director of Animal Husbandry and Veterinary Services, Government of West Bengal, for giving permission to carry out the work for the fulfilment of Ph.D. in Science (Microbiology) as an in-service candidate.

I acknowledge the administration of the University of Kalyani for allowing me to pursue this work and for approving my candidature for the enrolment in Ph.D. course.

I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to parents and parents-in-law for their constant encouragement. Lastly, but not the least, I acknowledge the painstaking support received from my wife Dr. Mousumi Ghosh (Jana) and my beloved son Akash and daughter Kriti, without their unquestioned help I could not be able to complete my work.
