ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my gratitude to my dear father, Prof. S.P.S. Dahiya, who has always stood by me like a rock in every situation. My interactive sessions with him were of great help.

I am extremely grateful to my supervisor, Prof. (Mrs.) Asha Kadyan, for helping me develop a clear-cut perspective on my research project. Despite her busy schedule, she spared valuable time from her familial and administrative responsibilities and burdens to guide me in my project.

I express my sense of my gratitude to my mother, Mrs. Chander Kala Dahiya, who provided immense emotional support during the course of my study. Late Principal Ram Kishan Dahiya and late Mrs. Ram Devi, my grandparents, always called me Dr. Shikha— a dream which I hope I will fulfil very soon. Sherry and Shekhar, my younger sister and brother, always kept my morale high during the natural ups and down which a researcher faces.

I am more than grateful to my husband, Mr. Gajender Phogat, for helping me at every stage of my research project. My little naughty son, Aryan, is the flower of my life and his childlike antics always bring cheer and buoyancy in my life.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to Late Shri Dayanand Phogat and Mrs. Azad Kaur (father-in-law and mother-in-law) whose blessings have always brought me happiness. My thanks are also due to Mrs. Sarla Ghangas and Mr. Suresh Ghangas (sister-in-law and brother-in-law), Surbhi and Kabir for encouraging me to complete the work.

Dr. Akshay Kumar, Prof. of English, Punjab University, Chandigarh, deserves special thanks for his critical insight which helped me develop my ideas in the form of my thesis.

My thanks are also due to the Library Staff of M.D. University, Rohtak who always provided the material without any grudge or reservation.

Finally, I would like to thank my darling doggy, Jojo, for not tearing my notes and always coming to me with its wagging tail to express its approval of the progress of my work.

(Shikha)