ACKNOWLEDGMENT

In fact, the people to be acknowledged are many but some deserve to be mentioned. At the outset, it is a glorious moment to express my immense and deep sense of gratefulness to my supervisor Dr. A. G. Khan, professor of English and Director, Board of College and University Development, Dr Babsaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad, India who agreed to register me under his guidance; I must mention that he is more than a guide; he has been for me a source of knowledge, wisdom and cooperation. Working under his competent supervision and encouraging enthusiasm, the work has been a cherish able experience. He has been a constant source of inspiration, ideas and information. Without his valuable advice, friendly dealing, patient understanding, polite way of suggesting and kind guidance, the dissertation could not have been completed so smoothly. However, the responsibility of any lacuna in this thesis remains mine in spite of my unceasing zealous effort.

I must also thank Sana’a University and Amran University for granting me a scholarship to complete my Ph. D in English in India. I must not forget to thank the Yemeni Embassy, the Cultural Attaché, and Counselor Mr. Abdallah Salami in New Delhi and the Consulate in Mumbai for their cooperation and support. In Yemen, there are so many to thank, among them Dr. Abdulah Al Najar, the dean of the Faculty of Education in Amran, Dr. Mohd Al Nageep, the vice dean, Dr. Mohd Sarhan Al Mekhlafy, former dean of Faculty of Education in Sana’a and Amran, Dr. Khalid Al Shehari,
Dr. Hassan Sarrar, Dr. Abdulwahab Al Moayad, Dr. Yahia Al Alyi, Dr. Mohd Al Raimi, Dr. Ayed Sharyan, Dr. Abdullah Al Hamzi, Dr. Sharaf al Hadi, dean of Faculty of Education Hajjah, Dr. Najeeb Ashamiri, Mr. Ameen Ali Ameen, Mr. Mahdi Jaber, Mr. Abdullah Gashwah, Mr. Mohd Hutaif and all my brothers and friends in Hajjah, Amran, and Sana‘a. My gratitude also to the presidency of Sana‘a and Amran Universities, the academic staff of English Departments, as well as the librarians. I would fail if I do not pay a tribute to my father, mother, wife, children, brothers, sisters, relatives and friends in Alnaid and Aflah Al Sham. I should also like to thank my children for forgiving me from falling short of certain fatherly duties being away from them.

In India my thanks are due to academic and non academic staff of department of English and the librarians as well as the officers of Ph. D. section; special thanks to Dr. Hameed Khan, Prof. Ranveer, Dr. Fernands and Mr. Pathak. During my research I have benefited greatly from my discussions with Prof. B. A. Abraham, Prof. Damodar Thakure, Dr. Moen Fatima and the academic staff of English departments in University of Pune, University of Hyderabad, and CIEFL in Hyderabad to all I am indebted and I must also thank the librarians in these universities. I must also express gratitude to the Yemeni students in India, specially Dr. Dawood, Mr. Fahd Saif, and Mr. Jamal Sultan, Saddam, Sa’ad, Najran, Muneer, Ebrahim, Ali, Osamah, Makseem, Ahmed, Adel, Ghassan, Abdu Saeed, Muneef, Sami, Zazai, Abdula Ziz, Mukhtar, Aref, Fahd, Ebrahim, Muaffaq and Bassam. I should not forget Mr. Safdar Ali Siddiqui (Raza Computers) who took extra efforts in typing the thesis. Coming to the end, I would like to express my warm gratitude to the authorities of Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University including the presidency, academic and non academic staff for their cooperation as well as to those dears whom I forgot to mention.

Aurangabad.
