ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present research work is the outcome of my years of scientific hard work which has come true because of kind assistance and guidance by many people involved directly and indirectly in it. I express my deep sense of gratitude to each one of those who have led me, steered my thoughts in its right directly and helped me to succeed and excel in the present research endeavour.

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere thanks and deep sense of gratitude to my beloved research guide, who was a fountain of motivation and hope, Dr. D. N. Patil, Professor, P.G. Department of Studies and Research in Economics, Rani Channamma University, Belagavi. Special thanks to his invaluable guidance, scholarly advice, continuous encouragement and enthusiasm throughout the research this research investigation. He is acknowledged, in particular, for offering me this research the present genuine and curious research problem, motivating me during adversities and for providing the necessary valuable inputs to carry out this research work. I have learned from his the way of critical thinking and a distinct thinking and the importance and necessity of proceeding in research with clear objectives. I am grateful for his valuable comments, beneficial discussion, timely advice and carefree attitude. It is always thought provoking and great pleasure to work as researcher under his able guidance and leadership.

Further, I would like to express my special thanks and a deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Bagalkoti, Professor and Chairman, P.G. Department of Studies and Research in Economics, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for his beneficial and critical assessment and comments which has further tempted me to look into my research work very critically. I further thank him for his constant inspiration and encouragement throughout the course of research work. I also thank Dr. Vaikunte, Professor, P.G. Department of Studies and Research in Economics, Karnataka University, Dharwad, for his humility and apt guidance.
I express my thanks to Dr. M. S. Adi and Dr. Sabanna Talawar, professors, P.G. Department of Studies and Research in Economics, Rani Channamma University, Belagavi, for their constant inspiration and encouragement throughout the course of research work.

I express my deepest gratitude to Prof. H. B. Walikar, Honourable Vice Chancellor and Registrar, Prof. G. B. Nandan, Karnataka University, Dharwad.

I express my thanks to officials of the libraries and the staff of the librarians of the Karnataka University and Rani Channamma University, for their help rendered for my data collection with a touch of dedication.

I owe my warm thanks to all my past research scholars for providing me ample research knowledge through their research work and also present research scholars for creating a friendly and intellectual research environment over these value added years. I am specially greateful to Mr. Ravindragouda K.

I would be failing on my part if I do not acknowledge the love, affection, encouragement and inspiration given by my family members who have been believed me in all stages of my life and indeed, I could able to achieve this milestone because of them. My parents Shir. L. N. Patil, Jayashri L. Patil, Sister Sujata, Brother Santosh Patil – Assistant Professor, Dept. of Social Work, Rani Channamma University, Belagavi. I further acknowledge the similar support and confidence extended by my beloved betterhalf Shri. Shivakumar Dalawai, my beloved and affectionate mother in law, Smt. Shobha M. Dalawai and father in law Shri. Mahadev Dalawai. And last but not least my lovely son Chi. Chirayu for whom it is dedicated.

Finally, last but not the least, the stakeholder of this research work, the respondents of the who have extended a fabulous support in my brain child.

Date : 24.7.2013

Place : Belgaum

Swapna Patil