List of Figures

Figure 1.1 Conception of triadic determinism (Source: Bandura, 2001). 19
Figure 1.2 Foundation of human agency (Source: Bandura, 2004). 20
Figure 2.1 A causal chain leading to violence (Source: Kakar, 1995). 31
Figure 2.2 The social psychological model (Source: Crook, 1995). 36
Figure 2.3 The eco-cultural model (Source: Mishra, Sinha & Berry, 1996). 39
Figure 2.4 The native cognitive model (Source: Pirta, 2003). 43
Figure 3.1 The vicious cycle of impoverishment and mental disorder
(Source: Patel, 2001; WHO, 2001a) 64
Figure 3.2 Hypothesized mechanisms by which attachment insecurity could contribute to mental health problems (Source: Maunder and Hunter, 2001). 66
Figure 3.3 Native cognition and mental health (Source: Pirta in press) 68
Figure 3.4 Perception of environment and associated physiological mechanisms leading to appropriate social behavior
(Source: Porges, 2001; 2003). 72
Figure 3.5 An integrative model of the associations between personal and social resources, life stressors, coping strategies and psychological adjustment (Source: Holahan, Moos & Bonin, 1997). 82
Figure 4.1 The study area and the Gobind Sagar. 95
Figure 5.1. The boat station at Bilaspur to take journey into the villages of the oustees. 110
Figure 5.2. A pathway full of silt partially covered by twigs. 110
Figure 5.3. Fertile land seasonally available when the lake water goes down. 115
Figure 5.4 The land of the oustees acquired for industries and other projects. 115
Figure 5.5. Barren hillocks, further denuded of its Acacia. 119
Figure 5.6. The pradhan of Mandi Manva. 119
Figure 6.1 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on intensity of negative valence associated with the event loss of home. 137
Figure 6.2 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on positive mental health. 138
Figure 6.3 The average scores of females and males on positive mental health. 139
Figure 6.4 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on psychological distress. 140
Figure 6.5 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on perceived social support. 141
Figure 6.6 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on general well-being. 142
Figure 6.7 The average scores of females and males on general well-being. 142
Figure 6.8 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on physical aspect of neuroticism (Area A). 144
Figure 6.9 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on psychological aspect of neuroticism (Area B). 145
Figure 6.10 The average scores of females and males on psychological aspect of neuroticism (Area A and Area B). 146
Figure 6.11 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on neuroticism (Area A and Area B). 147
Figure 6.12 The average scores of females and males on neuroticism (Area A and Area B). 147
Figure 6.13 The average scores of displaced and normal subjects on state anxiety. 149